

Kenyon's Mine Board Bill May Head Off Strike

Tribunal to Adjust Differences Believed Permanent Coal Strike Solution

TREATS ALL SIDES FAIRLY

Board Would Have Nine Mem- bers—Public Would Have Needed Protection

By Lawrence Martin
By United Press Leased Wire
Washington. — In an effort to avert the threatened coal strike, and to prevent future coal disputes Senator Kenyon, Iowa, Tuesday introduced a bill creating a tribunal to adjust differences between miners and operators.

While it probably would be impossible to pass Kenyon bill before the present strike situation reached its climax, the fact that Congress is at work upon such a measure might stave off the impending trouble, many senators believe.

The bill, a direct outgrowth of the recent West Virginia investigation made by Kenyon's committee, creates a labor board of nine members—three representatives of the operators, three of the miners and three of the public. At least one member of the public group must concur in all decisions of the board.

ENFORCED BY SENTIMENT

Publicity and the force of public opinion is the only enforcing power behind the board's rulings.

An industrial code, which it is intended shall later be applied generally to industry sets forth the following principles respecting the coal business:

1. Coal is a public necessity and public interest is paramount in its production and distribution.
2. Human standards should be the controlling influence in fixing wages and working conditions of miners.
3. Capital "prudently and honestly invested" should have an adequate return.
4. The right of miners and of operators to organize is recognized and affirmed.
5. The principle and right of collective bargaining is recognized and affirmed.
6. Nonunion miners have the right to work without being harassed or persecuted by union men or by operators.
7. A basic wage, providing a fair living and an opportunity to save for old age and illness, should be provided for every unskilled worker, with differentials for skilled labor.
8. The right of women to engage in industrial employment is recognized and their pay shall be the equivalent of that paid men doing the same service.
9. Child labor is condemned.
10. Six days is fixed as the standard working week and eight hours the standard day.
11. Punitive overtime to be paid for all hours worked over eight.

TRAGEDY IS BACK OF LURE FOR U. S.

London — Lillian Russell, touring Europe to observe the human side of immigration, has so far discovered that it is nine-tenths tragedy.

"Poverty, disillusionment, false hopes, ignorance, and they are the key notes of hundreds of letters that I receive from all over the United Kingdom," she declared in an interview with the United Press.

"America seems still to be Utopia to a large number of these people here," she said. "One mother writes asking me to arrange passage for her and her nine children to America, but only on condition that they be allowed to live in Los Angeles."

"A Russian princess has begged my help in securing a position as maid in a respectable American family," she said. "These are only a few instances. But they are all alike — each one a tragedy."

HOLLYWOOD'S NAME IS BAD BUT PEOPLE GOOD, WRITER SAYS

Chicago — Hollywood is like the word "sex"—it has been given a bad name and it has stuck.

Cosmos Hamilton, famed British novelist and playwright, is of this opinion, but he is not alone. Tuesday there is nothing back of the "bad" name.

"People of Hollywood are hard working," Hamilton said. "They are keen on the job and are keen on bettering themselves. They are very anxious to improve. Girls dress entirely there and altogether there is a most delightful atmosphere in the place."

"I knew William D. Taylor, the murdered director, very well. He was a kind, sympathetic, thoughtful scholar. He was a man I should call with the greatest care, a gentleman. He was a sort of 'little father of the studio.'"

QUEEN OF DOPE RING SOUGHT BY FILM SLEUTHS

Woman Who Lived Near Taylor Home Is Believed to Have Inside Crime Facts

NEGRO WON'T REVEAL ALL

Spurned Sweetheart of Sands Gives Clues Which May Lead to His Capture

By United Press Leased Wire
Los Angeles. — The queen of the dopes was hunted Tuesday in the William Desmond Taylor murder mystery.

This woman, head of a powerful drug ring operating in Hollywood, knows the circumstances of Taylor's killing, in belief of Under Sheriff Eugene Biscailuz and Deputy Sheriff Frank Dower.

All known members of this ring including its queen have gone into hiding.

The "queen" is described as a woman of beauty who does not show the traces of the drugs she distributed to the ring's victims.

Tracing the woman's movements during the last few months, officers have found that she frequently changed her place of residence but that she always lived near Taylor's home.

PEAVEY IS RETICENT

Henry Peavey, negro valet of William Desmond Taylor, and William Davis, chauffeur for Mabel Normand, were summoned by District Attorney Woolwine Tuesday for further questioning in the investigation of Taylor's murder.

This followed a statement by Geo. Arto, who passed the Taylor home the night of the killing and who declared he saw Peavey and Davis in conversation with a third man in front of the house. Both Peavey and Davis deny it.

PEAVEY'S REMARK

"I expected it," when he discovered Taylor's corpse and Arto's new testimony, coupled with the negro's unwillingness to discuss the case convinced officials he is unconsciously shielding the murderer through a mistaken idea of loyalty to his employer.

WOMAN AS BAIT

The sweetheart of Edward F. Sands, former valet of Taylor and one of the suspects, is reported to have visited Woolwine Tuesday afternoon in the rooming house which may lead to Sands' apprehension.

She determined to tell the authorities all she knew when Sands "threw her over" for another woman. Ever since this visit she has been shadowed on expectation that Sands might visit her again. In fact "the woman scorned" is reported being used as a human bait to lure Sands into the hands of the police. So far, however, he has refused to bite. Captain of Detectives Adams maintains Sands has knowledge of the crime, if he is not actually the murderer.

SUGGESTS REWARD

"The murderer must be found and punished," Mabel Normand, film star and the last woman to see Taylor alive, said Tuesday.

She was sitting up in bed—having suffered almost a nervous collapse—surrounded by mounds of flowers sent by friends and admirers. Her bed was littered with telegrams and letters expressing sympathy.

"Every one of Mr. Taylor's friends should contribute toward a big sum to be offered as reward for capture of the man who killed him," she said.

"All should contribute even if they only give a dollar apiece. I shall ask the privilege of heading the list. He had friends who should contribute hundreds."

PLANS LIQUOR FIGHT

"There is no question about the eighteenth amendment being a law," he said in warning to saloonkeepers. "I am going to do all in my power to see that the law is enforced."

The public has a well-defined idea on how the law enforcement officer stands on the matter of morals. He will direct his efforts against the dime-a-point auction bridge game rather than the nickel dice game in the alley.

"My pastoral experience has convinced me that there is more peril of moral disintegration in some cultured homes of the well-to-do than there is in a group of isolated bone shakers hidden away to satisfy their fevered desire for unearned financial gain."

"The question of cleansing the moral atmosphere of a great community includes the fashionable elite in whose parlors poker, whist, and other parties differ only in degree from their evil companion of 'craps' in the alley."

Ranks of Strikers in New Eng- land Swell to 45,000— Greatest in History

By United Press Leased Wire
Boston, Mass. — Massachusetts, New Hampshire and Rhode Island Tuesday were gripped in the biggest textile strike in the history of New England.

The ranks of the strikers have been swelled to a total estimated at 45,000. At least 25,000 of this number are in New Hampshire.

Forty-two mills in the three states have been forced to close.

ARGUE WHICH BONUS PLAN IS GOOD POLITICS

G. O. P. Chiefs Studying Effect of Bond Issue or Taxation on Voters

NEED FUNDS TO PAY BONDS

Maturity of Victory Loan in Few Months Adds to Prob- lem of Financing

By David Lawrence
Copyright, 1922, by Post Pub. Co.
Washington. — The political paradox of the moment—whether to put out a new issue of bonds to the amount of one and one-half billion or to impose $350,000,000 of taxes per year for the next three years—is causing sleepless nights for the chiefs of the Republican party.

The leaders realize that the situation is bad either way; a new bond issue is unsound finance, but fairly good politics while direct taxation is sound finance and very poor politics.

Members of congress are seeking the advice of the president and secretary of the treasury. They will get from Mr. Mellon the judgment which he has always given—that the treasury considers to be sound finance but whether the party leaders will accept the plan or make their own alternative remains to be seen.

SEEK REASONS

In any event here are the reasons why a bond issue is opposed and why the treasury believes direct taxation is essential if the bonus is absolutely inevitable. And after examining those reasons members of congress will be able to tell the White House why they believe direct taxation should be avoided if the Republican party is to retain control of congress.

The treasury insists that even though only $350,000,000 a year may be needed to pay the soldier bonus—and this is a minimum guess—everybody agrees that it might run as high as $500,000,000 or approximately $350,000,000 in the first two years—the total amount that may be required must be taken into consideration in any new bond issue. In other words if the government must borrow a million and a half dollars more money from the American people, the value of all Liberty bonds and Victory bonds that will have to be obtained will be nearly eight billion dollars in the next two or three years because six and a half billions must be borrowed to pay Victory bonds which come due. The Victory bonds were only of five years' duration and when they were issued the government knew the value of the Liberty bonds and the Victory bonds would be approximately twenty-five billion dollars.

FEAR DEPRECIATION

The financiers at the treasury fear that to add a billion and a half to America's total debt by borrowing through bonds would be to depreciate the value of all Liberty bonds and to make the American dollar worth just so much less because of the added burden of debt imposed on America's resources. To the argument that the bond market can readily absorb the new issue, officials say there was no doubt of it but that if new government bonds are issued, just so much money which would have been available to private business as a stimulus to industrial revival will be cut off and normally delayed.

There might be argument about whether the bond issue caused a slump but with so many economic factors in the situation, the exact responsibility would not be so easy to locate. And besides, the full effect of a bond issue might not be felt until after the congressional elections because only $300,000,000 would be borrowed at a time and that's not enough to cause a ripple in the investment market in the next six months—at least so the politicians reason.

ESCAPE WITH $2,500 AFTER BANK ROBBERY

By United Press Leased Wire
St. Paul. — Two men robbed the Cherokee State bank on Cherokee Heights of $2,500 at 12:30 Tuesday and escaped.

W. J. Christiansen, president of the bank, was alone when the bandits entered. They had waited until a customer stepped out.

The bandits ordered Christiansen into the vault and tried to lock the door but didn't know how. As they fled in a touring car Christiansen gave the alarm.

The loot was mostly currency.

'TRUST' TOOK MILLIONS OF ALIEN FUNDS

"Ponzi" Investigation in Chicago Reveals Huge Gang of Swindlers

LESLIE HARRINGTON FLEES

"Genius" of Trust Is Sought— Officials of "Company" Are Arrested

By United Press Leased Wire
Chicago. — Warrants charging embezzlement against Raymond J. Bischoff and Leslie Harrington, alleged to have swindled citizens of "Little Poland" out of $6,000,000, were issued Tuesday.

Bischoff, 25 years old, obtained as high as $50,000 a day in his operations, according to testimony of J. D. Wilson, his cashier. Wilson stated that promises to pay as high as 75 per cent interest were common.

Hundreds of foreigners, left penniless by the crash of Bischoff, stormed the court, demanding their money. Police reserves swept them back.

TRUST IS BARED

Chicago. — Operations of a gigantic "swindle trust," which robbed the foreign-born of millions of dollars, were unearthed Tuesday as police sought Leslie Harrington, who fled Chicago shortly before his office was raided.

Others were involved in the "Ponzi trust plot" following probe of the affairs of Raymond J. Bischoff, 25, who admitted he drained $4,500,000 from Lithuanian stockholders' deposits.

Harrington was sought after police swooped down on the offices of the American Novacelite company, 400 Madison street, Tuesday afternoon. Secretary Thomas Moran and Office Manager A. A. Lebecki.

WAS "GENIUS" OF SCHEME

According to Lebecki, Harrington was the "genius" of the frenzied finance operations.

"We have given promissory notes for about $1,400,000 since the office opened," he said. "People came to us with their money and wanted us to invest it for them. If they demanded their interest or original investment, we made them accept stock in the Novacelite company."

Large blocks of stock and books of promissory notes were seized by police in the raid.

Others whose shattered financial ventures were aired before Federal Judge Landis, admitted that he and Harrington had worked together in some deals.

According to Lebecki, Harrington left for "an indefinite stay in the east."

DRAINED MANY

Not only were the savings of the foreign-born of Chicago taken but those of surrounding cities were drained also, Lebecki said.

"We had 40 salesmen on the road all the time," he told investigators. "We withdrew them when business started to get poor."

Operations from the Western Land Operator company came under the scrutiny of the police Tuesday. Casimir Philpovich was under arrest here and M. P. West was reported captured at Aurora, Colo. Both are alleged to be field agents of the company.

Others who operated with Harrington and who were sought by police Tuesday, followed Peter Zylivits, John Nigaud and Alexander Retkowsk. Zylivits is alleged to be the head of the Peoples Investment company, an affiliated concern.

POLICE INFORMED

Probe of the alleged Chicago swindlers started when Lithuanians told police that they received as high as 100 per cent on short time investments with Bischoff. They complained that interest was no longer forthcoming.

Harrington and other promoters of the American Novacelite company said "Novacelite" was a road building composition made from gravel on land holdings of Harrington near Elmhurst, Ill.

Officials of the various financial companies involved in the investigations were guarded by police reserves Tuesday.

Fears that angry Lithuanians, clamoring for their savings, would start a riot, led to the precaution.

Seven Speakers Will Appear on Program Announced by
D. P. Steinberg

Final arrangements for the annual convention of the Wisconsin Real Estate Brokers' association which opens Tuesday night in Eau Claire were announced Monday by Daniel P. Steinberg, president of the association.

A dinner Tuesday evening at which the president, past presidents and directors will be the guests of the Eau Claire real estate board will open the convention. On Wednesday, Don E. Goss of Chicago and Elmer Grimmer of Madison will speak. Group conferences of farm and city realtors will be held during the noon hour. In the afternoon Ogden A. Conter of Minneapolis will talk on "Salesmanship and Advertising." R. T. Hily of Madison will discuss "Land Utilization and Real Estate Taxation" and P. A. Cannon of Madison, secretary of the State Parks association, will speak on "Wisconsin Parks and Playgrounds."

A trophy cup contest Wednesday evening and a program of "stunts" will be a feature of the convention. Bright and early Thursday morning the delegates will begin work at a "breakfast" conference lasting from 8 till 9:30. This will be followed with talks by John Keinitz, appraiser for the federal land bank of St. Paul, who will speak on "Appraisals" and Leonard S. Smith city planner, who will tell about his work in every part of the state.

Bruce Douglas of Milwaukee will talk on "Real Estate Problems" and at the afternoon session Dean L. H. Russell of the state university will tell of the value of soil tests in selling a farm. O. E. Hawk of Youngstown, Ohio, a nationally known real estate broker will speak on "The Real Estate Outlook for 1922." At midday Thursday the delegates will be guests at an old fashioned sleighride party about the city during which all places of interest will be visited. At the closing banquet in the evening addresses will be made by James Schermerhorn editor of the Detroit Free Press and Ed Wilcox, state senator from Eau Claire.

SEEKS PATENT ON 15TH INVENTION

Richard Miller Applies for Patent on Iron Clamping Service

Richard Miller has returned from Milwaukee, where he made application through his attorneys to the United States patent office for a patent on an iron clamp, a device to hold together die or cutting blocks to be used at the plant of the Appleton Wood Products Co.

This is Mr. Miller's fifteenth application for a patent and so far none has been rejected. The swivel har carrier was one of his first inventions on which he received a patent 38 years ago, while an employee of the Appleton Manufacturing Co. It has been in general use throughout the country for years.

Another successful invention is the Badger car mover which he ships to all parts of the world.

INVITES MERCHANTS TO SALESMANSHIP TALK

A general invitation has been issued by W. S. Spend More For Lipsticks Than For Furniture In U.S.

"It's time the American people began beautifying their homes instead of their faces."

Prof. Lyons of Chicago told this to furniture men of the Fox River valley in a meeting at the Valley Inn, Neenah, Monday evening. David Brettschneider and Louis C. Wehman of Appleton attended the meeting.

"In 1921," Mr. Lyons said, "the American people spent $9,000,000 for lipsticks and $6,000,000 for furniture. We can do nothing else but take this as an evidence of degeneracy among our people. When people spend more for worthless and unnecessary things than they do for those things which make for greater comfort and beauty in life and which are more conducive to substantial citizenship, something is radically wrong."

Much admiration for the new Brettschneider building was expressed by furniture men at the meeting. They agreed that more attractive furniture stores of this type would be a great influence in getting the public back to its old appreciation of the things which make a home more beautiful and add immeasurably to the happiness of life.

MIXED PROGRAM WILL ENTERTAIN OLD RESIDENTS

Musical Numbers and Addresses Will Mark Pioneer's Golden Jubilee

Programs are being distributed for the golden jubilee convention of the Outagamie County Pioneer Association which will be held Feb. 22 at Odd Fellow hall.

In arranging this program it has been the endeavor of the program committee to make it sufficiently diversified to enhance the enjoyment to be derived from the event by the large attendance that is expected. The program will be held at 12:45, immediately following the banquet.

It will open with the song "America" by the audience. Invocation will be made by the Rev. J. A. Holmes of the Methodist church. Mayor J. A. Hawes will make the address of greeting and this will be followed by a musical number, "The Mariners" by Miss Marion Hutchinson. George Mechalson and Harry Willson.

Hon. John Strange of Menasha will deliver the annual address, "Looking Backward" in which old residents are promised something interestingly reminiscence and entirely fitting for the occasion. Songs entitled the "Pale Moon" and "The Birthday" will be sung by Miss Doris Dietrich. Miss Mildred Barrett will give two piano selections and will also play the accompaniment for other musical numbers.

Mr. M. Roblee, secretary of the association, will speak on the "Early Settlement of Appleton and Lawrence Institute" and Francis J. Rooney also will make an address. Other addresses will be made by volunteer speakers and a period will be devoted to hearing the official reports of committees. Assembly singing of the "Red, White and Blue" and closing with the Doxology will complete the program.

The program bears the names of the following present officers of the association: Mayor J. A. Hawes, president; A. W. Priest, vice president; W. M. Roblee, secretary and treasurer. Members of the executive board are Judge John Bottensack, Arnold Wittlin, Henry Kreiss, Richard Miller, Fred E. Harriman, William F. Saack and Charles Simpson.

COLLEGE ARTISTS TO TAKE PART IN WOMAN CLUB PLAY

Star Musicians Will Play Important Roles in "Town Topics"

"Town Topics," which is being produced here for the Appleton Women's club on Feb. 27 and 28, may well boast of good musical numbers when it includes such well known musicians from the Lawrence conservatory as Eleanor Muhl Berger, Miss Ione Flotow, Harold McGillan and Harry Willson. Its choruses also have good musicians and every song in the entire revue is advertised as a "hit."

The performance which is billed as a smart musical revue will include everything which the theatre going public may desire, whether it be a ballet or good comedy with farcical situations and clever satire or a parade of bewitching costumes. The costuming for several of the song numbers is new and novel.

Chorus rehearsals are taking place daily under the direction of Miss Elsie Sweetzer who was sent here by the producers. J. Frederic Marlati will arrive sometime this week to begin his work in rounding out the production. The committee from the Appleton Women's club, which is handling the details of the production for the club includes Mrs. S. C. Shannon, Mrs. Richard Meyer, Mrs. John Engle, Jr. and Miss Ruth McKennan.

CHILDREN WARNED TO SLAY CATS AND TO PROTECT BIRDS

E. D. Upson, Chief Game Saver,
Delivers Lectures in Schools Here

Death to cats! Long live the birds. This is part of the gospel E. D. Upson of the state conservation commission has been preaching to school children in Appleton the last two days.

Mr. Upson spoke at the First ward school Monday afternoon. Tuesday morning he spoke at Lincoln school and in the afternoon at St. Joseph parochial school. At a public meeting to which everyone is invited Mr. Upson will give his illustrated lecture at the vocational school at 8 o'clock Tuesday evening. He will hold a similar meeting in Kaukauna Wednesday evening.

Among the things Mr. Upson has been telling the school children and their parents are these: "Wisconsin was twice under the sea. It emerged first many thousands of years ago. This accounts for Wisconsin's unparalleled scenery such as is found at Devil's Lake, the Dallas and the St. Croix river.

"Ninety per cent of all Wisconsin's forest fires are preventable. The careless auto tourist and even the passenger in a railroad smoking car often start fires by tossing burning matches or cigar stubs by the way-side.

"The fish rescue forces saved 176,000,000 fish in the Mississippi river in the vicinity of La Crosse last year. "To restock our northern park region, the state conservation commission has shipped as many as four carloads of elk into this section in one lot.

"Birds and animals which should be destroyed are the wolf, red squirrel, woodchuck, red fox, blackbird, crow, bobolinks when flying south and certain species of owls."

"If you want to help protect the birds kill your cat seven times and your neighbor's cat 11 times."

100 HEAR TALK ON GAME-SAVING AT HUNTERS MEET

W. R. Wheaton is Elected President of County Fish and Game Association

After hearing E. D. Upson of the state conservation commission tell the story of the work his department is doing in the state, 100 people left the annual meeting and banquet of the Outagamie Fish and Game Protective association Monday evening proud of Wisconsin's wild life and deeply resolved to do everything possible to help in protecting it.

Due to the unavoidable absence of Judge Asa K. Owen of Phillips, president of the Wisconsin Game Protective association, and Thomas O'Neil of Sheboygan, chairman of the board of directors of the association, Mr. Upson was secured to lecture on the various species of wild game and fowls and explain to local sportsmen how they can cooperate with the commission in its conservative work.

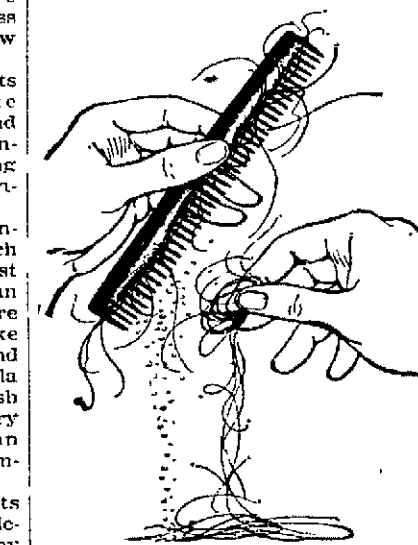

One hundred fifty slides were shown by Mr. Upson, illustrating a wide range of subjects from the reforestation of devastated areas in the north woods to the fish rescue work in the Mississippi river. It was the speaker's second appearance in Appleton as the same lecture was presented by him last October at the annual convention of the Wisconsin Federation of Women's clubs.

CATLIN PRESIDES
Mark Catlin, former president of the state association, presided at the meeting. In introducing the speaker he gave a short synopsis of the legislative work done by the state last year to further game protection. He said the Outagamie association is becoming recognized outside the state but much effort must be put forth if it is to remain unsurpassed in this section.

Following the illustrated lecture, the annual election of officers was held. Officers elected were W. R. Wheaton, president; Oliver Smith, vice president; G. L. Chamberlin, secretary.

Immediately after the business meeting Secretary Chamberlin took up the task of enrolling new members and listing renewals of membership. Nearly 50 persons, both men and women, paid their dues and joined the association for the ensuing year.

Creamy Chocolate Fudge Wins One Recipe Prize

In the opinion of the judges of the cookery contest Mrs. Frank Babino, 70 Mason-st., submitted the best recipe for fudge, out of more than 75 which were sent to the contest editor. Mrs. Babino's Creamy Chocolate Fudge was No. 66 in the contest. Announcement of the other candy prize could not be made because of the great number of recipes which were turned in. That winner will be announced later.

Let me introduce you to Creamy Chocolate Fudge: may you make it often and successfully:

CREAMY CHOCOLATE FUDGE
2 cups sugar
2-3 cup milk
2 tablespoon light corn syrup
2 ounces chocolate that is 2 squares
2 tablespoons butter
1 teaspoon vanilla

Cut the chocolate into small pieces so that it will melt more easily. Add add and corn syrup. Cook stirring occasionally to keep the candy from burning until temperature of 234 degrees is reached. At this stage the fudge will form a soft ball if a little is dropped into cold water. Remove the candy from the flame and add butter without stirring. Set aside and allow to cool until it is lukewarm. Add vanilla and stir until the fudge loses its shiny look and until a small amount dropped from the spoon will hold its shape. Pour into greased pans making 1/2 or 1 inch in thickness. Using corn syrup it insures a smoother texture and it improves the keeping qualities. But when using corn syrup it takes a long time to beat. Never beat till lukewarm. Do not turn candy in pans as soon as it thickens but keep on beating until it holds its shape, 15 minutes if necessary. You may even have to knead it to get it into pans and have the top smooth.

ASK CIVIC CLUBS TO HEAR TALK BY BUSINESS DOCTOR

Colvin B. Brown of U. S. Chamber of Commerce Speaks Here March 7

Civic organizations of Appleton will all be represented at a luncheon in the Sherman House March 7, which will be addressed by Colvin B. Brown, head of the organization department of the United States Chamber of Commerce.

Invitations to send representatives to the luncheon have been sent by Hugh G. Corbett to the Rotary club, boy scout and girl scout organizations, Appleton Womens club and other local organizations.

For many years Mr. Brown has made a study of the cause and effect of certain conditions on business. Many times he has been called in to ascertain the reason why communities were not prospering as they should. This earned for him the title of "doctor of sick business." Some of the smaller towns for which Mr. Brown has prescribed are Fort Scott, Kan.; Adrian, Mich.; and Washington, Pa. Minneapolis, Wheeling, Detroit, Omaha, and San Francisco have been among his larger "patients."

MOTHERS' PENSIONS UP $3,000 IN LAST YEAR

Three thousand dollars more was paid by the state for mothers' pensions in Outagamie-co. in 1921 than in 1920, according to the report recently made by County Treasurer Louis A. Peterson.

In 1921, 159 claims were filed for pensions and the total paid on these claims was $28,405. The year previous 135 claims were filed and about $25,000 was paid.

Are You Living in a "Fool's Paradise"?
? Watch! ?

Is this the Third Influenza Wave?

Is the type of heavy cold now prevalent a true influenza? Doctors disagree.

It will be remembered that after the terrible epidemics of 1918 and 1919, it was predicted that "waves" of influenza would recur, milder each time, until humanity should have acquired immunity against the disease.

Science has not yet found the germ, nor medicine the cure. But we have learned better how to avoid influenza, grip and pneumonia.

The value of Vicks as an aid in preventing these diseases is explained below.

Avoid Influenza---Grip---Pneumonia

Apply Vicks to help avoid infection.
Use Vicks at the first sign of an oncoming cold.

MOST medical authorities now agree that Colds, Grip, Influenza and Pneumonia are all germ diseases—most commonly spread by breathing in the germs. If the system is in good shape—the membrane of the air passages in a healthy condition—these germs do not breed.

In fact the germs of all of these diseases are frequently found in perfectly healthy persons. It is only when the bodily resistance is lowered—as by a cold for instance—that they are able to harm us.

Avoid Sneezers and Coughers

It is best to keep away from the sneezers and coughers in the street cars and public places, or if you must meet them, insert some Vicks in the nostrils before you start out. On returning home, melt a little Vicks in a tin cup or a spoon and inhale the vapors.

Opposed to Bacteria

The ingredients of Vicks are not only anti-septic, but rubefacient—that is, they summon the blood to the tissues where applied and thus free blood circulation is nature's best method of repelling germ infection. Also Vicks spreads a protective film over the membrane and furthermore is opposed to the growth of bacteria. In short, we believe you have a much better chance to avoid infection by these numerous germs if you have Vicks in your nose.

Adopt the DIRECT treatment for all cold troubles

ABSORBED, like a liniment, and, at the same time, INHALED, as a vapor, Vicks reaches immediately the congested, inflamed air passages.

Three Sizes: 35c; 75c; $1.50

Attack a Cold Immediately

When you feel a cold coming on, go right home. Take a laxative. Make some hot lemonade, then take a hot bath—as hot as you can stand. Stay in the tub 30 minutes, sipping slowly several glasses of the lemonade. Get into bed, with a hot water bottle at your feet, and pile on blankets. After an hour's sweat, dry thoroughly with a rough towel, apply Vicks over throat and chest, rub in well until the skin is red, and then spread on thickly and cover with one or two thicknesses of hot flannel cloth. Get into bed again between dry sheets. Leave the bedclothing loose about the neck, like a funnel, so that the rising vapors may be freely inhaled. It is an obstinate cold, indeed, that will resist such treatment. If it does, call a physician.

Acts Two Ways At Once

Vicks is of benefit in cold troubles in two ways. 1st—It is absorbed thru and stimulates the skin, thus helping to relieve the soreness, loosen the phlegm and make the breathing less difficult. 2nd—At the same time the ingredients, released as vapors by the body heat, are taken with each breath directly into the congested, inflamed air passages.

A Vapor Lamp in Salve Form

Vicks is the discovery of Mr. L. Richardson, a North Carolina druggist. He realized that cold troubles were affections of the respiratory organs and that the only way to get medication direct to these parts was in the form of vapors. Mr. Richardson finally worked out the process for making Vicks, so made that the body heat releases the volatile ingredients in the form of vapors. Vicks really is "a vapor lamp in salve form."

The Ingredients of Vicks

Since the dawn of history mankind has been searching nature for remedies against cold troubles. The knowledge gained thru a thousand years has come down to us today. Vicks contains the best known remedies for these troubles, some of them of great antiquity. Menthol, for instance, comes from Oil of Peppermint which was grown in Egypt three thousand years ago and whose virtues are described in the old Icelandic books of the 13th century.

The highest authority on drugs and their uses is the U. S. Dispensary. We give below a few extracts from the Dispensary on some of the ingredients in Vicks.

MENTHOL—"It is actively anti-bacterial. It is employed for its antiseptic and anæsthetic influence in coryza, pharyngitis and laryngitis."

CAMPOR—"Has a peculiar and agreeable effect on the mucous membrane—relieves congestion and inflammation—is a powerful stimulant to the respiratory centers."

OIL OF EUCALYPTUS—"Germicidal, antiseptic and stimulant—largely used in chronic bronchitis and infections of the upper respiratory tract—its vapors are very efficient."

OIL OF THYME—"This drug is a powerful antiseptic with wonderful healing properties, especially in congestion and catarrhal conditions of the nose and throat."

OIL OF TURPENTINE—"Its vapors are an excellent remedy for, and highly beneficial in, various forms of bronchial and lung troubles—has powerful healing, antiseptic properties."

thing. For health usually means happiness.

Dread diseases are being exterminated or gotten under control. The tuberculosis death rate has been cut almost in half in the last 11 years. Its decline in 1921 was the greatest of any year on record. Even the death toll of organic heart disease and Bright's disease is getting lower.

Safety First campaigns are bearing fruit. The rate of deaths from industrial accidents is decreasing sharply. But deaths due to automobiles are soaring. Last year they numbered more than five times as many as in 1911. This is partly counterbalanced by the greater number of autos in use now, compared with past years. That, however, is small consolation to pedestrians and occupants of cars with reckless drivers. It is like telling a soldier that there are 200 rifles shooting at him, against only 20 rifles in a previous battle. With increasing congestion of population, compulsory protection against reckless auto drivers will become a necessity. The auto death rate will be reduced by the same processes that have cut the general death rate—quarantine and education.

"DISCOVERING" THE WEST

Joseph Hergesheimer, the author, is visiting the west for the first time, hoping to pick up material for a new novel, or, perhaps, several new stories. In interviews he is contrasting the central part of the United States with the east. Mr. Hergesheimer says there is too much tradition in the east, and that tradition is neither healthy nor natural. This nation he considers to be too young for tradition. With us, and he alludes especially to the east, tradition is imitation.

Every section of the United States has been depicted in literature and the drama, and so have the definite characteristics of men and women. Mr. Hergesheimer will meet strange individuals in his journey across the United States, but they are persons who are regarded by their neighbors as eccentrics, just as there are odd species in the east that are in no sense generic. So will Mr. Hergesheimer hear of much tradition in the territory west of the Mississippi. He will see old settlements and old buildings, and be introduced to scenes of old families.

What Mr. Hergesheimer is apt to conclude, after he ends his journey and reflects on his observation, is that this is a spacious land of many climates, various occupations and divers traditions, but that human nature and ideals are pretty much the same all over it. He will discover characters, plots and environments for good, strong stories, but they will be new to literature only from his point of view and in his treatment of them in fiction.

ROBERT G. SIEBECKER

Wisconsin has suffered a keen loss in the death on Sunday last of Robert G. Siebecker, Chief Justice of its Supreme Court. Though born in a foreign land Justice Siebecker came here at an early age and must be considered a Wisconsin product; he was educated in Wisconsin's schools and graduated from its University. For nearly twenty years he has been one of the Justices of the Supreme Court. Before that he was a Circuit Judge for several terms.

His was the sort of a personality which inspired public confidence and his was the kind of a character, kindly, courteous, yet inflexible in the performance of his duty as he saw it, to build strong the fabric of the law, with the certain knowledge that only through such a means may the splendid institutions of this country be perpetuated.

Judge Siebecker was the sort of judicial officer whom we like to think of as distinctly American; that is, he was plain and democratic in his manner, simple in his tastes, easy and kindly in approach, yet perfectly loyal in his fidelity to the duties of his great position. We have the thought that it is men such as Judge Siebecker, holding the responsible judicial positions in this country, who will have a large hand in knitting more firmly together the faith of the people in its institutions by convincing them that our judiciary has but a single purpose and that is to do justice in as near measure as is possible between man and man.

Health Talks

BY WILLIAM BRADY, M. D.
Noted Physician and Author

Dr. Brady will answer all signed letters pertaining to health. Writers' names are never printed. Only inquiries of general interest are answered in this column, but all letters will be answered by mail if written in ink and a stamped, self-addressed envelope is enclosed. Requests for diagnosis or treatment of individual cases cannot be considered. Address Dr. William Brady, in care of this paper.

NOW IS THE TIME

Along about valentine time I always feel particularly sorry for those poor souls who depend on golf for exercise. And worse still, along comes my old friend Chick Evans, the greatest golfer that ever worried the pesky little pin over the pasture lot, and cheers the old coddlers up by assuring them that a daily half hour of indoor golf is about as good a physical training as the Brady Symphony. Alas, even Chick shies 'em sometimes.

But now let us chuck and come to the point. Exercise which is to be of permanent and lasting and certain benefit must be taken every day in the year, not just in certain seasons or on certain days when conditions happen to be agreeable. Exercise daily, is quite as essential for perfect health as is washing the hands; and people who neglect to take exercise are quite as unclean physiologically as people are personally who omit washing the hands before eating, and quite as much endangered by disease. Exercise does really merit the description "internal bath" for it increases the absorption of oxygen, the great Dutch cleanser of the blood and tissues. If more people could be prevailed upon to take more exercise more days per annum there would be a tremendous falling off in the nation's sick list.

I've revised the Brady Symphony or rather added two new movements, both adagio, necessarily, since they come near the end of the piece. For the benefit of new readers let me explain that my symphony so named by an enthusiastic reader, is a series of body building exercises for home use. Warranted harmless and will put pep in, and pink cheeks on, any person who follows it 15 minutes daily. The symphony is no joke, as any one knows who has played it for a year or more; it is very lively and difficult. I will gladly send this series of exercises to any reader who wishes to try it on his old metabolism and doesn't forget the stamped, addressed envelope.

These are great days for exercise. Now is the time to get the habit of keeping fit to fight whatever befalls.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

Cataract
Can cataract be cured without an operation? (W. K.)
Answer—No.

The Unsophisticated Husband
I wish to thank you for the excellent advice you sent me for reducing (including the Karel regimen) I managed to lose 20 pounds. Friend husband, is happy and so am I. (Mrs. R. C.)

Answer—Am glad to learn of this, now, happy family. Perhaps we can serve some other readers of this department. Step up friends, and see if you qualify for Karelism. State age, height, weight and sex. And don't forget the indispensable stamped addressed envelope for the reply.

Kindly tell me whether popcorn is good for a person. I eat four or five bags a week.—(H. S. B.)
Answer—It is good for nearly everybody over 4 years of age. It is a natural laxative or rather regulator, quite nutritious if eaten with butter or popped in fat, a source of vitamins and of phosphorus and a natural cleanser of the teeth.

Thyroid Extract
Will you please tell me what effect thyroid extract tablets have on the health? I understand they are good to reduce weight, but I am a little timid about taking them, until I learn whether they would harm me. (A. E. N.)

Answer—Thyroid extract is a very powerful drug and also it is of great value in the treatment of certain cases of obesity you would be taking long chances with your health by experimenting with such a potent weapon, for when unintelligently employed it may cause grave disaster. Leave the administration of such drugs to the skill of your own physician.

Henry Nichols was a Green Bay visitor. Fireman George Vogel and his wife and child were ill with the grip.

Mrs. F. Fernheimer and Mrs. C. Strauss of Milwaukee were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Sam Solomon. Miss Maggie Ferguson and John O'Neil won the prizes at a chess party given by Mrs. Norman Bauer.

George Baldwin won the oratorical contest at Lawrence chapel the evening previous. H. C. Logan won second place and Benjamin Babcock third. The annual meeting of the Ladies Aid Society was to be held at the home of Mrs. James Ryan, Feb. 14, 1897.

The Northern Paper Co. of Grand Rapids filed articles of incorporation with the secretary of state. The capital was $12,000 and the incorporators were John Daly, L. M. Alexander, and F. Garrison.

The skat tournament given by A. L. Smith in the club rooms of the Appleton Athletic association, was attended by 80 players. The prizes were won by G. T. Moeskes, L. Koss, L. M. Mann, and Joseph Sider.

A Kaukauna dispatch said large quantities of hemlock were being used by the gravel and pulp mills of Fox river valley, some of them running half of the time on that wood. It costs only about one-half the price of spruce, but in preparing for cooking wastes very much more. It is estimated that a saving of 25 per cent can be made in its use.

Charles Price departed for the north on several weeks' business trip.

TODAY'S POEM

By Berton Bracey

WELL, YOU TELL 'EM THEN

I may find out, in time, I think
Why folks are paid the way they do,
And why men don't strip shirts of pink
Or fancy vests of varied hue;
I often think that I can guess
Why certain folk sport yellow spats,
And why girls put on less and less—
But why do men wear derby hats?

There may be reasons that are sound
For summer furs and I don't doubt
Why check-room bandits still abound
And why men wash with scented soap;
I know why prices still are high,
Why rubber pants are found in flats,
Why movie "serials" get by.
But why do men wear derby hats?

I understand the tariff bill,
The Elmslie theory I know;
I can elucidate with skill
The income tax, and I can show
Why cooks and housemaids never stay;
Yes, ask me any question that's
Discussed, I'll answer right away!
But why do men wear derby hats?

Resume of American and Foreign Newspaper Opinion

Outlawing Darwin From Kentucky

Kentucky is again in the throes of an abolition movement—this one aiming to free the young idea from the invidious influence of the Darwinian theory of evolution. A bill before the legislature, supported by the House Committee and disapproved by the Senate, provides that—

"It shall be unlawful in any school or college or institution of learning maintained in whole or in part by this state, by funds raised by taxation, for anyone to teach any theory of evolution that derives man from the brute or any other form of life. No text book containing any such teaching shall be adopted for use in any such school or college or institution of learning. Any person violating any of the provisions of this section shall be fined not less than $50 nor more than $1000."

When first introduced, the NEW YORK CALL reports, the bill "was considered one of the annual freaks introduced into every legislature," but it aroused much serious discussion within and without the state, and now, with the two houses of the law-making body reflecting the division of opinion among Kentuckians, "feeling is running almost as high as in a Presidential campaign," according to the PHILADELPHIA RECORD.

THE SAVANNAH NEWS, somewhat against the history threatening the Blue Grass country, wonders if prohibition has anything to do with it, for, it says:

"There was a time when Kentucky was very broadminded. A man could believe what he believed. He could even practice shooting his neighbors in private wars, or race his horses, and bet all he had on his favorite. He drank his whiskey neat—or, when he had time, which was often, he drank a julep. What he thought was his own business, and he defended his ideas at any personal cost. No lawmaker could tell him what his religious beliefs ought to be. He could believe a man ascended or descended from a monkey if he wanted to."

But whether or not the product of the celebrated eighteenth amendment, the SPRINGFIELD REPUBLICAN is certain that the proposed law is "just moonshine." However, its author "meant well, no doubt." He "heard about the theory of evolution, and although it is plain he did not understand it, he was a legislator, you know—his mind received a great shock, probably his first. His first thought, when he recovered, was to protect other minds that might have been shocked. And of course he could think of no other way to do it than to decree a law forbidding shocks."

As in those other days when Kentucky was one of the outposts of a mighty movement, carpetbaggers are taking a hand, in defense and opposition. The president of the state university, "has called up his law students, and asks them to enter their protest," and according to the NEW HAVEN JOURNAL COURIER "the appeal has not fallen upon deaf ears."

For "university presidents and college functionaries are sending in their protests in goodly number and in a serious frame of mind." The university of Kentucky that such crusading "is certain to make her the laughing stock of the world," while Butler of Columbia insists that if the job is to be done at all it must be done thoroughly, and made "to include in its prohibition the use of any book in which the word evolution is defined, used or referred to in any way. It might even be desirable to include a prohibition or books that use any of the letters by which the word evolution could be used," so as to avoid the ingenious manipulations of the unscrupulous.

To their assistance the proponents of the bill have called that "perennial carpetbagger," William Jennings Bryan. He has visited Kentucky, and against his speeches nothing, that the greatest educators and ministers of the land have had to say has been able to prevail. THE CHARLESTON NEWS AND COURIER observes:

"The Commoner 'has found a new issue,' the Charleston paper continues, 'which will well last him 'from now on.' As Irvin Cobb would put it, and 'in the light of the enthusiasm with which it has been received in Kentucky' we may find him swept into the Senate on that issue by the votes of the citizens of Florida. But the JOINTS-TOWN DEMOCRAT, after the fact, has Bryan undertake to sweep back the rising tide of human knowledge he has perhaps set himself as dubious a task as that to which old King Canute put his feeble hand."

THE NEW YORK TIMES finds "a certain satisfaction in learning that there are regions in the United States where the method of creation and man's physical descent are of greater popular concern than the Fordney tariff, the Shantung settlement or Einstein's theory of relativity." But in such a situation "decision has its limits," the NEW YORK POST remarks, for after all, as the BOSTON TRAVELER notes, "the question is, is furnishing a striking example of the handicap under which state legislatures sometimes operate."

And is presenting some difficult questions—"Are state legislatures qualified to decide what shall and what shall not be taught in the higher institutions of learning? Shall they be allowed to determine for the young people of the state what is truth and what is falsehood? Since science probably cannot be disproved by legislative act, even if passed by a strict party vote, the KANSAS CITY TIMES concludes that regrettable as it may be, "it really seems that there are limitations to the authority of legislatures" in determining fact, and "the real point at issue in Kentucky," as the BALTIMORE NEWS sees it, "is not whether evolutionary doctrines are true or false, but the much more fundamental question, whether teachers of science are to be allowed to teach the truth so far as they can see what the truth is." Human beliefs will be altered, "in one direction or another," as more light is given, but the COLUMBUS DISPATCH declares that a legislature "is not competent to furnish that light," and "regardless of any act of the legislature, the students of Kentucky institutions will reach their final conclusions, on grounds of investigation and reason."

How The German Imperial Family Lives

Paris. — After the revolution of 1918 the Emperor, the Empress, and the crown prince were the only members of the imperial family who were exiled from Germany.

The other princes left their palaces in Berlin and took refuge in Potsdam. The emperor had six sons and one daughter, Princess Victoria Louise.

How are these members of the ex-imperial family now living in Germany? A writer in the ECHO DE PARIS tells the story.

"The crown prince," he says, "goes on a visit about two or three times a year to her husband in Holland. The rest of the year she lives in Potsdam at the Cecilienhof castle, with her four children. Her two oldest sons, Wilhelm and Joachim, 15 and 13 years old respectively, have a tutor but attend the state college at Potsdam where they have to submit to the ordinary rules."

"The two young princes bicycle to school and join in all the sports and games that are going on, and are always dressed very simple."

"Prince Adalbert lives at Wilhelmshaven where he leads a quiet existence, associating with a few families of the nobility and is little spoken of."

"The motor car business, Mercedes, offered him recently a million marks a year to be its representative, but Prince Adalbert refused the offer."

"His brother Prince August-Wilhelm, joined the bank at once after the revolution, but he seemed to interest him more than finance and he is now with the Opel motor-car firm where he earns 150,000 marks a year, with additional percentage. He has not much intercourse with the former members of the court."

"Prince Eitel-Friedrich lives in the villa Jugenheim at Potsdam, and is the greatest intriguer of the imperial family. The monarchist marshals that in which he took part last summer Ludendorff are not yet forgotten. His hatred of France is well known, and he is in constant intercourse with all the anti-republican associations. Most probably Kapp kept him acquainted with all the preparations for his revolutionary blow."

"Prince Oscar also lives in Potsdam at the villa Lentz. He has just been dangerously ill with inflammation of the lungs, from which he is now recovering. He has no special occupation and is often to be seen in the neighborhood of Berlin on a motor bicycle, or walking in the new deserted avenues of Potsdam with some former officers."

"The youngest son of the emperor, Prince Joachim, committed suicide, 18 months ago. A serious illness seems to have been the cause. There has been much talk about the law-suit between his widow and Prince Eitel, with regard to the son Joachim. It appears that the princess leads a very gay life and is said to have gained a dancing princess reputation in Baden-Baden."

"The only daughter of the emperor, Victoria-Louise, lives at present on the estate of her husband, the Duke of Brunswick. She has visited her father several times at Doorn."

The Leech Again Popular

LONDON. — It may come as a surprise to some people to learn that there is at present a distinct revival in the use of that oldest of old therapeutic measures, the leech, says a writer in the LONDON TIMES. It would appear that there are not now on the market enough leeches to supply the demand, and the demand is apparently growing. Since it seems that few better methods of relieving inflammatory areas exist than the application of these creatures.

"Not long ago it was said that the trade in leeches was one of the 'dying trades.' According to the Hospital and Health Review, there were in 1870 no less than a dozen merchants in Paris who made their living out of leeches, each of them selling between 300,000 and 400,000 leeches a month. Paris today has only one firm of the kind, and its sales are about 150,000 per month."

"The country most faithful to the leech is the United States, where it is still much used. But, as has been said, this country is becoming a 'leech buyer.' An authority of wide experience declares that there has been a 'small boom' just recently, and that some chemists could easily dispose of a double the number they are at present using. This difficulty of supply is largely due to the fact that the old leech farms have disappeared. These farms had ponds into which old horses were made to walk at stated intervals in order to feed the 'stock.' Now leeches are fished for and exported in baskets from Turkey and other areas."

"The leech belongs to the blood-letting days. Its modern use, however, is probably more as a counter-irritant than as a remover of blood. It is a kind of animated mustard plaster and surgeon's knife combined, and its efforts, or so those who believe in it declare, result in a marked relief of edema and a rapid subsidence of inflammatory mischief."

TWO FLOORS OF GOOD THINGS FOR MEN

People's Forum

The Soldiers' Bonus

Editor Post-Crescent. — It seems that one of the principle topics that is interesting the peoples' servants in Washington is the soldier bonus bill. To be sure there are different ways that the money could be procured that would satisfy the taxpayers providing the time be opportune. But why at this time when the whole country is bedeviled on account of the recent world war that is claimed by some of our people to have been unavoidable should our people be called upon again so soon after conclusion of said war to subscribe for the immediate benefit of a few when all the people have all the bills they are able to pay without further subscriptions any person that keeps posted on events realizes that England's neat little debt of $5,000,000,000 and France with no small amount of $3,000,000,000 cannot help out with interest payments that are due to say nothing of other European nations with their $3,000,000,000 debts.

Our citizens in America were very loyal and generous as a rule in subscribing the vast amounts to bring the war to an end. These moneys were loaned to our allies by the millions and France the power that suffered the greatest loss cannot pay anything for a long time and the other powers have to feed their people but in time they must pay and will pay their debts if given a reasonable show.

There are apparently two reasons why the soldiers' bonus bill should be delayed at least for the present if not for a term of years. First under the present difficulties that are being encountered especially in the rural districts our people are not able to stand another tremendous strain. Properly they will be confiscated if there is not a halt called and many persons will become public burdens. Second, if the bonus bill should pass the major part of the money received by the young men would be used for sports or recreation while if this money was withheld for a few years or until the proper time the young men would change and the value of a dollar would receive greater consideration.

It has been suggested that the government present its securities to the soldiers, let them hold or dispose of them as they see fit, perhaps for the purpose of disposing of a large amount of work. It simply makes the soldier an agent for Uncle Sam. If the soldiers are to benefit at this time, give them the cash, it will find its way back into circulation very readily and if our government is not in position to do this now, let there be no donations to anybody.

Our people at home were very generous and liberal in making investments and donating their time and spending their own cash to back up their government. They received nothing nor do they expect anything, but without their efforts not many of our boys would have found their way to Europe.

HUNDREDS ATTEND DEDICATION OF LUTHERAN CHURCH

Visiting Pastors Assist at All-day Exercises at New London Edifice

Special to The Post-Crescent
New London—The new Emanuel Lutheran church at the corner of Quincy and Lawrence-sts., was taken to capacity with more than 1,000 people at the services Sunday when the joint dedication of the edifice and pipe organ took place. The building was erected and equipped at a cost of approximately $80,000, the culmination of the ambitions and efforts of the pastor, the Rev. A. Spiering and his congregation following several years of planning and raising money for the new church. The services were held in the new building, the first of the new congregation and many others from attending.

ENTER BUILDING

The dedication exercises began at 9:30 with a farewell service at the schoolroom where services have been held for a number of months during the erection of the new building. The assemblage then marched to the church doors led by the pastor and visiting clergymen, and the exercises held. The church then was opened and the dedication of the building and pipe organ made by the Rev. A. Spiering. A sermon in German was delivered by Prof. A. Pieper of the Lutheran Seminary at Wauwatosa followed by an English sermon by the Rev. R. E. Ziesemer of Mount Olive Lutheran church, Appleton. At 2:30 in the afternoon, the Rev. Bergman, president of the Joint Wisconsin Synod delivered two sermons, one in German and one in English. Evening services were in English conducted by Rev. E. B. Schlueter of Oshkosh, following which the organist gave an impromptu organ concert to the delight of those who remained after the services had been concluded.

Dinner and supper were served to more than 1,200 persons in the commodious dining rooms in the basement by the Ladies Aid association. Approximately $600.00 was realized towards the building fund.

ENGLISH IN DESIGN

The church has been built along the English Tudor style of architecture with two towers at the northwest and southwest corners, in each of which are entrances, leading up into the foyer, and down into the basement. The main entrance is between the two towers and leads directly into the large foyer. Winding stairways in each tower give easy access to the large balcony which will seat several hundred overflow from the auditorium.

The large pipe organ, beautiful in appearance and tone is built at the rear of the balcony. It is a Tubular Pneumatic instrument, with an extended console and was purchased at a cost of $5,450. It is able to produce 764 tones and an expert organist from Pekin, Illinois, who presided at the organ, ably demonstrated the volume and variety of tones in the selections rendered throughout the services. Accompanying the organ, in leading congregational singing, was a large choir of Emanuel young people.

DONATE WINDOWS

The window construction is Gothic in design and all are special gifts from members of the congregation to perpetuate their names, and memories for deceased relatives. Windows and the donors are as follows: Main door transom, by Misses Meta Popke, Emma Gerlach and Amanda Ladwig, Mr. and Mrs. Otto Lemke, Mr. and Mrs. Hugo Bergmann; north tower, two windows, by the Birthday club; south tower, Miss Rachel Spearbraker, Clarence Roster, Anron, Reuben and Dorothy Voss; four hall windows, F. Schoenrock & Sons; two altar windows, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Wolftrath.

REORGANIZE CLUB AT PARK SCHOOL

Kaukauna. — The Parent-Teachers association of Park school will hold a reorganization meeting Thursday evening. It will be the first meeting since last school term and most of the time will be spent in taking up the work which has been dropped. Community singing will be led by Miss Edna Ruff of the high school, Prof. W. P. Hagman, principal of the training school, will give an illustrated talk on Wisconsin. He will show slides made from pictures which he has taken during his travels about the state. A social hour will be held.

THILMANY TEAM WHIPS FREEDOM

Kaukauna. — Thilmany All Star basketball team defeated the Freedom quint 36 to 23 in a game Monday evening in the auditorium. It was a slow game, characterized by lax guarding, especially on the part of the visitors who seemed lost on the large floor. The battle up to the last quarter was close, each side alternately making a basket, with the advantage slightly on the side of Freedom.

The invaders led in the first half, the score being 13 to 11 at the end of the period. With the score 21 to 19 in the last quarter in favor of the farmers, the papermakers rallied and a few fine shots through the net seemed to take the fight out of the visitors. From then until the end of the fracas, Thilmany made baskets at will.

FURNISHINGS ARE GIFTS

Practically all auditorium and pulpit furnishings also are gifts from members. The pulpit donated by Richard Rhode and the altar, a gift from young people confirmed recently in the old church, are both of pure white with gold colored trim. The statue of Christ, was given by Herman Gerndt. The relief picture "The Lord's Supper" in front of the altar was donated by Mrs. Carolina Bohlman. The altar candelabra is a gift from Mrs. C. J. Voss. The green altar spread was presented by Mrs. W. D. Spiering and Mrs. Ed Becker; the purple altar spread by the Misses Edith and Mina Yelland, and the white spread by Mrs. Laura Sanger. The new silver communion set and crucifix were presented by Miss Letha Toloff and Mr. and Mrs. R. Lohm; Bible and Liturgical books by Misses Amanda, Laura and Mabel Reier; altar carpet by ladies of the J. Prahl family; two hymnbooks, harmonizing with the pulpit and altar, by Ray Arndt and George Krueger.

BODY OF FORMER RESIDENT COMES HOME FOR BURIAL

Thomas Malone, Prominent Citizen a Few Years Ago, Dies in West

Kaukauna. — Funeral services for Thomas Malone, 70, who died last Friday in an Aberdeen, S. D. hospital, following an illness of more than five months, were held at 9 o'clock Monday morning from Holy Cross church. Burial was in Holy Cross cemetery. The body arrived here Saturday evening from Aberdeen and was taken to the home of Nick Berens, Canal St.

Mr. Malone lived on a large ranch in Loyaltown, S. D. A report of his death was circulated about a month ago but was unfounded.

Decedent is survived by three sons, Thomas E. Malone, Louisville, Ky.; J. C. Malone, Loyaltown, S. D.; William P. Malone, Seattle, Wash.; two daughters, Mrs. J. Zohorik, Manitowish, Wis.; Mrs. Nellie A. Malone, Milwaukee; four brothers and sisters, John and Barney, Cedarburg; Mrs. Mary Sullivan, Cedarburg; Mrs. J. Osburn, Aboca, Minn.; five grandchildren. Pallbearers were L. E. Vandenberg, Jacob Lang, John Mueller, Thomas Reardon, Albert Hoppe and Jacob Wittman.

Mr. Malone was born in Boston, Mass., in 1852. With his parents he moved to Cedarburg where he grew to manhood. After marriage Mr. Malone went to Iowa and in 1886 came to Kaukauna and started in the heavy stable business. He was one of the city's prominent business men and was well known in the valley as a man who knew horses. For several years he conducted his business in the old red barn on Wisconsin-ave., recently torn down after having been made a subject for newspaper editorials, songs and stories. In 1909 Mr. Malone sold his business and went to South Dakota.

Among those from out of town who attended the funeral were the following: Joseph Zohorik, Sr., Manitowish; Joseph Brennan, Cato; Leo Murphy, Cato; John Brennan, James F. Clark, Misses Mary and Margaret Clark, Oshkosh; Mrs. A. H. Fischer, Green Bay; Henry Reuppleier, DeBere.

BIG DEMAND FOR BOOK ON WIRELESS

Circulation of Books From Kaukauna Library is Increasing

Kaukauna. — That the wireless telegraph bug has hit the city is evident from the fact that a new book at the public library called "Practical Amateur Wireless Stations" is very much in demand. Three volumes on the subject, "Mission Furniture—How to Make It" have also been added to the library. The librarian expects the books will be in great demand because of the practical way in which the subject is treated.

During the month of January 2,347 books were checked out at the public library. This number is an increase over January a year ago when 2,223 books were withdrawn. Of this number, 1,527 are fiction, 80 are German and 740 are nonfiction. More adult books than children's books are taken home.

Among the new fiction books at the library, some of which merely replace worn out copies, are the following: Contrary Mary, Little Shepherd of Kingdom Come, Mysterious Rider, Quinn, Lorraine Holds the Range, Hiccup of the Old Home.

New non-fiction books include: Unrivalled Atlas of the World, Glaziers of North America, Practical Amateur Wireless Stations, three volumes on the making of Mission Furniture. There also are twenty or more books, primers and readers for small children.

DO YOU WANT A CROWD AT YOUR AUCTION?

Certainly you do. Every farmer who holds an auction knows the price he gets for his articles depends entirely on the size of the crowd. The size of the crowd depends on the publicity given the sale. It is quite natural that if you are going to hold an auction you will want a large crowd. If you are planning an auction write "Auctioneer," care Post-Crescent and let us explain our plan. It costs you nothing to learn the details of the plan.

How to Make Pine Cough Syrup at Home

Has no equal for prompt results. Takes but a few minutes to make, and saves you about $1.

Pine is used in nearly all prescriptions and remedies for coughs. The reason is that pine contains several elements that have a remarkable effect in soothing and healing the membranes of the throat and chest.

Pine cough syrups are combinations of pine and sugar. The "syrup" part is usually plain sugar syrup.

To make the best pine cough remedy that money can buy, put 2 1/2 ounces of Pinex in a pint bottle, and fill up with home-made sugar syrup. Or you can use clarified molasses, honey, or corn syrup, instead of sugar syrup. Either way, you make a full pint—more than you can buy ready-made for three times the money. It is pure, good and tastes very pleasant.

You can feel this take hold of a cough or cold in a way that means business. The cough may be dry, hoarse and tight, or may be persistently loose from the formation of phlegm. The cause is the same—inflamed membranes—and this Pinex and Syrup combination will stop it—usually in 24 hours or less. Splendid, too, for bronchial asthma, hoarseness, or any ordinary throat ailment.

Pinex is a highly concentrated compound of genuine Norway pine extract, and is famous the world over for its prompt effect upon coughs.

Beware of substitutes. Ask your druggist for "2 1/2 ounces of Pinex" with directions, and don't accept anything else. Guaranteed to give absolute satisfaction or money refunded. The Pinex Co., St. Wayne, Ind.

HALF CENTURY
For the Roof that will shelter you and your children's children
"HALF CENTURY" BRAND WHITE CEDAR SHINGLES

Here Are Four Things You Should Know

when you put a roof on your house or barn.

How your shingles are seasoned? This is one of the most important things about shingles. If they are kiln dried they stand a good chance of being dried out too fast and too much. That makes them brittle and liable to crack in nailing.

"Half Century" Brand Shingles are all "air-cured"—nature's way—the best way. Are your shingles the right thickness? If too thin they are apt to "curl" and warp.

What kind of wood are they? Everybody who knows anything about woods knows that some woods stand the "wear" of weather much better than others and that the wood that resists "weather-wear" best is White Cedar.

The right shingle nails to use. "Half Century" Shingles outwear a common steel nail by a long, long margin. Use galvanized or copper nails. The other kind soon rust out. For a roof that will last your lifetime (and more) insist on having Half Century Brand Shingles and use rust-resisting nails.

Remember that white Cedar Shingles take any color, shade or stain beautifully.

All lumber dealers can supply you. (Insist on seeing the trade-mark above on every bundle.)

You will find it worth while to ask us for a copy of our booklet, "How to Lay a Shingle Roof." It's free.

Contest Editor Finds A Rose Among The Bricks

Did you ever travel incognito? Neither did the contest editor but it is nearly as much fun to be the contest editor and constantly hear people speaking about your contest when they have no idea who you are. Just today, the contest editor was in a grocery store perhaps buying materials for one of the salads which will be printed in a day or two, when two women came in talking about pies.

One said: "I made the best banana pie yesterday. I had never done one before but I got my recipe from the contest in the Post-Crescent."

Her companion went on to say that she had not baked any of these pies yet, but that she had tried several of the cakes and they were good. The contest editor smiled to himself while they talked about his contest. Just wait until you get to the salads, however, and then you will want to try them all. There are only a few more pies after these:

LEMON PIE
3-4 cup sugar.
Mix rounding tsp. flour with it. Yolks of 3 eggs.
Juice of 1 lemon.
Beat well. Then add 1 cup milk.
Put in crust and bake.
Add 2 tbsp. sugar to beaten whites. Spread over pie and put back in oven a few minutes to brown.—Mrs. R. C. Pedersen, R. 10, Neenah.

GRAPE PIE
1 cup whole Concord grapes.
1 cup sugar.
1 egg.
1 tsp. flour.
Put grapes on under crust.
Mix sugar, flour and egg together and spread over top of grapes.
Put on upper crust.—Mrs. Fred Sasmann, Black Creek, R. 4.

BEEFSTEAK PIE
Cut the remnants of a cold roast beef or steak into inch pieces. Add a small onion with boiling water to cover and cook slowly one hour. Take out onion, thicken the gravy with flour stirred smooth in a little cold water, and season with salt and pepper. Add potatoes cut in one-fourth inch slices, which have been parboiled in salted boiling water for 7 or 8 minutes. Put in a buttered baking dish, cover with rich biscuit dough, rolled rather thin, or with pie crust, and bake in a hot oven until crust is lightly browned. Cut holes in top of pie for steam to escape.—Miss Lillian Drusewitz, Green Valley.

COCONUT CREAM PIE
Put in a double boiler, 1 and 1-2 cup milk, 1-2 cup each of shredded coconut and sugar, and a pinch of salt and let it heat to the boiling point. In a small bowl mix a mixture of one heaping tablespoonful of cornstarch dissolved in a little cold milk and the yolks of two eggs beaten to a froth, add a piece of butter size of walnut and cook slowly five minutes stirring so there will be no lumps. When cool flavor with vanilla and pour into a pie shell previously baked. Make a meringue of the whites of eggs, spread on top and brown slightly.—Miss Lillian Drusewitz, Green Valley.

JELLY PIE
1-4 cup butter.
1-2 cup sugar.
2 eggs.
1-2 cup cream.
1-2 cup jelly.
1 teaspoon flour.
1 teaspoon vanilla.
Cream butter and sugar, add the other ingredients in the order given. If the jelly is sour, use one cup sugar. This filling is for one pie.—Mrs. W. H. Vandepheyn, 710 Richmond-st.

RASPBERRY CUSTARD PIE
Line a pie plate with plain paste and build up a fluted rim. Beat 2 eggs slightly, add 3 theps. sugar, 1-8 tsp. salt and 1 cup milk. Strain mixture into plate and put in quick oven to set rim, then reduce heat and bake until firm. Cover the top with raspberry jam or fresh raspberries crushed, then put on a layer of whipped cream, sweetened and flavored with vanilla.—Mrs. George Werner, 656 Law-st.

BUTTER SCOTCH PIE
1 egg.
1 cup dark brown sugar.
1 cup milk.
3 theps. flour.
1 theps. butter.
3 theps. water.
1 theps. powdered sugar.
1-4 tsp. salt.
1 tsp. vanilla.
1 baked crust.
Put yolks of an egg in sauce pan, add brown sugar, flour, milk, water, butter, salt and vanilla. Stir over fire until thick and comes to boiling point. Pour into baked shell. Put white of egg on top for meringue. Sufficient for medium sized pie.—Mrs. A. A. Vogel, 778 College-ave.

FOWLER RAISINS PIE
3 eggs.
1 cup sugar.
1 cup cream (sweet or sour).
1-2 tsp. cloves.
1-2 pkg. seeded raisins.
Beat the yolks of eggs and white of one keeping the remaining 2 for frosting. Add sugar, cream, cloves and raisins. Bake in a rich pie crust in a slow oven. When done beat the whites of 2 eggs until stiff and add 2 theps. granulated sugar. Place in oven to brown.

PASTE FOR PIE
1 cup flour, well sifted.
2 theps. lard well rounded.
3-4 theps. cold water.
Pinch of salt, and pinch of baking powder.—Mrs. J. P. Zonna, 525 Sampson-st.

LEMON CREAM PIE
1 heaping cup flour.
1 theps. lard.
2 theps. butter.
1-2 tsp. salt.
Put flour in bowl, cut in lard and butter, add salt and enough ice cold water to moisten. Roll thin, and line a pie tin.
1 cup sugar.
Rind and juice of 1 lemon.

2 egg yolks.
2 theps. corn starch.
1 cup boiling water.
Mix sugar, rind and juice of lemon, the well beaten egg yolks, and the corn starch, and lastly the boiling water. Let come to a boil, stirring constantly, until it thickens. Pour into tin lined with pie crust and bake until crust is done. Have ready the whites of the 2 eggs beaten to a stiff froth, add 4 tablespoons sugar, and spread on pie. Put in oven until a delicate brown.—Miss Elma Lemke.

BUTTER SCOTCH PIE
3 theps. shortening.
1-2 cups brown sugar.
1-3 cups boiling water.
3-4 theps. corn starch.
2 eggs.
1-2 tsp. salt.
Combine the cornstarch, shortening and salt. Add the sugar dissolved in the boiling water, cook until thickened, and pour this mixture onto the egg yolks well beaten. Flavor. Pour the mixture into a pie plate lined with pie crust, and bake it in a quick oven for about 25 minutes. Then cover with the meringue made of the egg whites and bake ten minutes longer in slow heat.—Lucille Kubitz, R. 5.

BAKEWELL PIE
3 level theps. jam or jelly.
4 theps. butter.
6 level theps. sugar.
4 eggs.
1-2 tsp. lemon extract.
1-2 level tsp. baking powder.
4 level theps. flour.
1 level theps. powdered sugar.
Line a buttered pie plate with the pastry, then spread in jam or jelly. Melt butter with sugar in a small saucepan. Add one of the eggs with three yolks, and mix well, take from the fire, add lemon extract, and flour sifted with Tyson.

Spread this mixture over the jelly and bake in a moderate oven for forty minutes. Beat up remaining whites of eggs to a stiff froth, add powdered sugar and beat again. Pile on top of the pie and brown lightly in the oven. Serve hot or cold. If liked, the meringue may be placed around pie.—M. Kubitz, Freedom-rd.

FIFTEEN-DOLLAR PIE
1-2 cup sugar.
2 theps. flour.
1-2 theps. melted butter.
Juice of 1 lemon.
1 egg yolk.
1-2 cup milk.
1 egg white.
Few grains salt.
Mix sugar and flour, add melted butter, lemon juice, egg yolk slightly beaten, milk, egg white, stiffly beaten and salt. Bake in one crust, and cover with meringue or not, as desired.—M. Kubitz, Freedom-rd.

GRANDMOTHER'S PIE
5 eggs.
1 cup sugar.
The grated rind and juice of two lemons.
Beat the eggs, add the sugar, then the rind and juice of the lemons. Bake in a small tart-pa, lined with rich crust.—L. E. Kubitz, R. 5.

CUSTARD PIE
4 eggs.
2 cups sweet milk.
4 tablespoons sugar.
1 heaping tablespoon flour.
Little vanilla and few grains of salt.
Beat the eggs well, add the sugar. Then add flour and lastly the milk. Bake in raw crust until the custard is set. This custard pie will not blister while baking as custard sometimes does.—Mrs. Charles E. Gostlicher, 538 Summer-st.

RIDE ON CONCRETE FOR 570 MILES NOW
An auto trip of 570 miles on Bay road now is possible from Green Bay, through Appleton to St. Louis, according to tourist maps. Chicago is the central point of the trip, using state trunk road from Green Bay through Milwaukee, Racine and Kenosha. It follows Sheridan road across the state line and through the northern suburbs of Chicago.

By way of Michigan-ave., Garfield-bldg., and Western-ave., the trail leaves Chicago to strike the concrete Dixie highway, following it through Watseka to Danville. The Dixie trail then goes east but the St. Louis route strikes good paved road through Westville, Georgetown and Paris to Marshall. At Marshall the route picks up the newly paved National road west to Vandalia, Greenville and Troy on into St. Louis.

VETERANS OF FOREIGN WARS PLAN BIG MEETING
Col. John G. Salzman of Madison, secretary of the state service recognition board, was in Appleton Monday for a conference with Maj. Charles Green in regard to preliminary arrangements for the annual meeting and dinner of the Military Order of Veterans of Foreign Wars.

The meeting is to be held in Hotel Pfister, Milwaukee, Feb. 22. Efforts are being made to make this year's event a memorable one and every member of the order is being urged to attend.

HARTLEY'S PRIVATE CAR IS REDECORATED
The private car "Menominee" which C. B. Hartley, formerly manager of the Wisconsin & Northern railroad, sold to J. S. Jones of Chicago at the time his road was transferred to the Soo line, has just been sent to the railroad shops at Green Bay to be repainted and redecorated and will then be forwarded to its new owner. Until it was sent to Green Bay the car was sidetrucked near the Soo depot, where it had been for several months.

THE KEY TO HEALTH

Health is the Basis of all Joy, Happiness and Success. Everything we have, work for and value depends entirely upon Good Health.

had, previous to the advent of Chiropactic been unknown. That disease in any form is due to the same abnormal condition of the spine (backbone) has been proven times innumerable.

However, some still contend that, The Spine is Merely a Support to the Body, and are unable to understand why abnormalities of the spine are responsible for weakness or diseased conditions in other parts of the body. Read carefully the following paragraphs and you will readily understand these abnormal conditions of the spine cause disease. The Spine is composed of twenty-six separate bones (joints) each being separated from the other by a padlike substance called cartilage which serves to absorb the shocks and jars of the body.

How and Why

Nerves come from the brain down inside this hollow spine and from there pass out through openings at all parts of the body supplying that part with vital force.

We fall, slip, or stumble perhaps so slight that we ignore it at the time, but unconscious we have twisted the spine in such a way as to cause one of the joints to become subluxated (displaced) thereby producing pressure on the delicate nerve supplying a certain part of the body which shuts off the life force to that part and marks the starting of a diseased condition.

To correct this condition the expert Chiropactor examines your spine, finds the cause and with his bare hands restores it to its normal position.

With this accomplished, Health is the only possible result. Our mission is to prove to those who have been given up by others that the cause of their trouble is due to a condition of their spine and to prove Chiropactic to be

ERSKINE DALE PIONEER

by JOHN FOX Jr

©1910 1922 by
JOHN FOX JR

Streaks of red ran upward, and in answer the great gray eye of the wilderness lifted its misty gaze. From the green depths came the fluting of a lone woodthrush. Through them an owl flew on velvet wings for his home in the heart of a primeval forest.

Deep in the depths a boy with a bow and arrow and naked, except for scalp-lock and breech-clout, sprang from sleep and again took flight along a buffalo trail. Not far behind him, three grunting savages were taking up the print of his moccasined feet.

An hour before a red flare rose within the staked enclosure that was reared in the center of a little clearing. Before the first glimmer of day the gates yawned a little and three dim shapes moved leisurely for the woods—each man with a long flint-lock rifle in the hollow of his arm, a hunting-knife at his belt and a coonskin on his head.

At either end of the stockade a watch-tower of oak became visible and in each a sleepy sentinel yawned and sniffed the welcome smell of frying venison below him.

A girl climbing the rude ladder to the tower stopped midway.

"Mornin', Dave."

"I was comin' to wake you up," she smiled.

"I just waked up," he yawned, humming the jest.

"Lyddy!" cried Polly, "bring Dave's breakfast!"

At the fire a tall girl rose, pushed a mass of sunburned hair from her heated forehead, and a flush not from the fire fused with her smile.

"I reckon Dave can walk this far—he don't look very puny."

A voice vibrant with sarcasm rose from one of the women about the steaming kettle.

"Honor!" she cried. "Honor Sanders!"

In a doorway near, a third girl was framed—deep eyed, deep-breasted.

"Honor!" cried the old woman, "stop wastin' your time with that weavin' in that an' come out here an' help these two gals to git Dave his breakfast." Dave Yandell laughed loudly.

Cow-bells began to clang at the edge of the forest.

"There they are," cried Polly. "Come on, Lyddy!"

The two girls picked up piggins and squeezed through the opening between the heavy gates. The young hunter entered a door and within threw himself across a rude bed, face down.

"Honor!" cried one of the old women, "you go an' git a bucket o' water."

A few minutes later she was at the spring and hnding water into her pail with a gourd.

Honor dipped lazily.

"Doo!" cried Polly, startling her, and then teasingly.

"Are you in love with Dave, too, Honor?"

The girl reddened.

As Honor turned abruptly for the fort, a shot came from the woods followed by a war-whoop that stopped the blood shuddering in their veins.

"Oh, my God!" each cried, and, catching at their wet skirts they fled in terror through the long grass.

They heard the quick commotion in the fort. Loud shrill commands, cries of warning, frantic calls for them to hurry, saw strained faces at the gates, saw Dave bound through and rush toward them.

"Git in—everbody—git in—quick!"

From a watch-tower, too, a rifle had cracked. A naked savage had bounded into a spot of sunlight that quivered on the buffalo trail a hundred yards deep in the forest, and leaped lithely aside into the bushes—both rifles had missed.

From the tower old Jerome saw reeds begin to shake in a cane-brake to the left of the spring.

"Look thar!" he called, and three rifles, with his own, covered the spot. A small brown arm was raised above the shaking reeds, with the palm of the hand toward the fort—the peace sign of the Indian.

A moment later a naked boy sprang from the cane-brake and ran toward the blockhouse, with a bow and arrow in his left hand and his right stretched above his head, its pleading palm still outward.

"Let him in!" shouted Jerome, and as Dave opened the gates, another arrow hurtled between the boy's upraised arm and his body and stuck quivering in one of its upright bars. The boy slight through and stood panting, shivering, wild-eyed.

The arrow had grazed his skin, and when Dave lifted his arm and looked at the oozing drops of blood he gave a startled exclamation, for he saw a flash of white under the loose-breeched-clout below. The boy understood. Quickly he pushed the clout aside on his thigh till all might see, nodded gravely, and proudly tipped his breast.

"Balfacet!" he half grunted, "white man!"

The wilds were quiet. The boy pointed to them and held up three fingers to indicate that there were only three red men there, and shook his head to say there would be no attack from them.

"What's your name?" The boy shook his head and looked eagerly around.

"Francis—French?" he asked, and in turn the big woodsman shook his head—nobody there spoke French.

However, Dave knew a little Shawnee, a good deal of the sign language, and the boy seemed to understand a good many words in English; so that the big woodsman pieced out his story with considerable accuracy.

The Indians had crossed the Big River, where as many as the leaves and meant to attack the whites. For the first time they had allowed the boy to go on a war-party. Some one had treated him badly—he pointed out the bruises of cuffs and kicks on his body.

The Indians called him White Arrow, and he knew he was white from the girdle of untanned skin under his breechclout and because the Indian boys taunted him.

Asked why he had come to the fort he pointed again to his bruises, put both hands against his breast, and stretched them wide as though he would seek shelter in the arms of his own race and take them to his heart.

Old Jerome and Dave and the older men gathered in for a council of war. The boy had made it plain that the attacking party was two days behind the three Indians from whom he had escaped, so that there was no danger that day, and they could wait until night to send messengers to warn the settlers outside to seek safety within the fort.

On the mighty wilderness the sun sank slowly and old Jerome sent runners to the outlying cabins to warn the inmates to take refuge within the fort. There was no getting that was not accustomed to a soft tapping on the wooden windows that startled him wide awake. Then there was the noiseless awakening of

"I know it," he said faintly, and then his eyes caught the boy with the scalp, were fixed steadily and began to widen.

"Who is that boy?" he asked sharply.

FOREST SKYPILOT SAYS NEW YORK IS LONESOME PLACE

Converted Lumberjack Doesn't Think Much of Big City "Civilization"

By Alexander Herman
New York.—Out of the snows of the northwest where he works among the lumberjacks, "Sky-Pilot" Jack McCall comes to New York and finds it—

The coldest, loneliest place in the world!
"Life in the camps may be bad—

"But it is far worse in New York," said McCall, with a snap of his jaw. "I'm going back to the woods as soon as I can."

MEN ARE SQUARE
"There men are hard—some of them are bad. But they are above board and square and big-hearted. "One knows his friends and his enemies."

"Hut here." He raised his hands in despair.
"If this is living in a modern society, give me the primitive woods folks every time. They may lack a polish the city man has but they have something infinitely more valuable—a big heart."

Fifteen years ago McCall was a lumberjack in the Minnesota woods. "I was a hard man—a husky and a drinker. I could scrap like a wild cat. How many of our New Yorkers could do as much?"

"One day I went on a spree. I wound up in a mission—broke. Something happened. I became converted."

"Two years later I went into the field—to carry on."

"The men weren't all two-faced, wild-eyed scoundrels. Many of them were quiet and peaceful."

CRITICISES DANDIES
"But all are real, red blooded, honest fellows."

Two New York dandies passed down Fifth Avenue.
"Look at them—"

"What do they know about ploughing through the snow when it is so cold that your very breath gets frozen?"

"That's living—not this cooped-up subway, apartment house existence that you have in New York."

There are 16,000 in the Sky-Pilot's

Indianapolis, Ind. — The first contributor to the Woodrow Wilson Foundation in Indiana was Mrs. Alice M. French of Indianapolis, founder and first president of the American War Mothers.

"I am happy to work for and contribute to the Woodrow Wilson Foundation," said Mrs. French, "as an expression of my appreciation of Mr. Wilson's efforts to end war. We war mothers want to show our appreciation of him while he is living because we want him to know our gratitude for the faith he has kept with us and our soldier sons."

LETTERS TO LOVERS

Love Dreams

By Winona Wilcox

BALLADS of dream-land belong to all literatures. The lie, bestrum or dream of love is a universal at musical motif.

From his dreams primitive man invented ghosts and other superstitions; and although, with the passing centuries, he grew wise, he continued to misinterpret his dreams.

Only occasionally did a sceptic suspect that dreams are not visions or prophecies. Very few agreed with Montaigne when he wrote:

"I believe that dreams are the true interpreters of our inclinations; but there is art required to sort and understand them."

The French essayist died in 1592. Not until 1901 was his theory proved right. Freud discovered that the subconscious mind as it works in dreams actually does interpret our inclinations and indicate or betray our secret desires.

Most of the latter, Freud says, are concerned with love. With this bias he interprets human behavior, but many scientists place love as the second of the dominating human urges.

Now most students of the mind believe that there should be a wider education as to the instincts behind human behavior. Certainly the truth about dreams is due to the girl who writes thus:

"A city bred girl, I never lived in the country until I was 20. While spending a vacation on a farm I met a man 10 years my senior. He made love so violently that I mistook it for the real thing and married him.

"That was the mistake of my life, for back in my home city I had left a man whom I never have forgotten."

"This man has never married. Friends write that he is always inquiring about me."

"I have been a good girl and a good wife; nevertheless my thoughts turn constantly to that man. I dream that I am back home with him and I feel for him a tenderness which has never come to me in any actual experience of my waking life."

"Our small home is crowded with my husband's people. My life is most unhappy."

"I sometimes wonder if my dreams can mean anything, if they hold some promise of happier future?"

Here is perfect example of the human habit of interpreting a dream of love as a promise of what is to be when it is only a betrayal of what one most desires.

The girl's letter shows how sleep and dreams can become a refuge. She is wretched, her husband's relatives increase her misery, and so she slips away, night after night, into her dream world, to find there her sole compensation for the sorrows of her day.

Unfortunately, there's a penalty for this indulgence. Of dreams, Byron wrote, "They take a weight from off our souls." And so this girl finds it. But the poet adds, "They do divide our being."

And that is the penalty to be paid for romantic and sentimental indulgence in the liebestraum. Dreams of love often divide our being, lead us nowhere, and all we undertake is half done.

Eat More Bread To Be Healthy, Scientist Says

A return to the bread and milk diet of our childhood would bring not only a saving to the family pocketbooks, but a saving in health, according to Dr. H. E. Barnard, Chicago. Dr. Barnard is an authority on chemistry, the author of numerous treatises on the science of bread baking, and in recent years chemist for the American Association of Baking Institutes.

"Bread could well supply 50 per cent and dairy products 20 per cent of our daily food," said Dr. Barnard. "Based on its food value, bread is our cheapest food at almost any price."

"Bread has been called the 'token of civilization.' And the rapid strides in progress which the western world has made over the orient is by many students attributed to the fact that bread is a more complete food than rice."

"Half of the world is dependent upon the United States for wheat to supply this highly nutritious food. Such vast agricultural resources make this country a great humanitarian power in supplying the sustenance that makes human beings in all parts of the world more efficient."

"If the consumption of bread in the United States were increased, people would generally be better off as to health, and the cost of living would be perceptibly lessened."

"We can well afford to learn a food lesson from the many European countries whose populations secure fully 60 per cent of their diet in the form of bread."

Polly and Paul--and Paris

Chapter 37—"Brainstorm"

BY ZOE BECKLEY

Polly's outburst was not a mere flash of hysteria. Her dark mood lasted. She seriously questioned in her own mind, as probably every intelligent young married woman always questions at some time soon after her marriage: "Am I the woman for my man?"

The more she brooded, the oftener came the answer. No, I am not clever enough. He needs a dashing wife, with heaps of accomplishments and self-reliance.

Then would flash across her tortured mind the thought, "Like Viola Rand. And Viola cares for him. She could win him if she really tried. Will she?"

The episode of the contract from Rigaud, which Viola had helped to get, passed. But Polly's hatred and fear of Viola stayed on, tormenting her. It would be wonderful to get away from it all—to go back home where she was with people she loved and understood, people who thought her bright and clever.

Paul could stay in Paris till his term of work was done. Then—if he shouldn't want to come back—Well, he could have his choice.

When Paul came home, his arms were full of flowers, pink and red and creamy white, "and a bunch of pansies for thoughts" which he flipped gaily before her nose.

"Well, Pussycat, how are we feeling? Any more brainstorms and mind cyclones and temperamental upheavals and whirlwinds?"

He swept her into his arms and danced her round, despite her struggles. He kissed her hair, her neck,

Household Hints

CHOCOLATE STAINS
Glycerin, combined with an equal amount of alcohol, is excellent for removing chocolate stains. It is also effective in removing coffee stains.

BROADCLOTH
A mixture of one ounce of fine pipe clay, 12 drops of alcohol and turpentine each is an excellent medium for removing stains from broadcloth. In cleaning, moisten only a small part of the material at a time, rub on the spot, let it remain until dry and then rub it off with a woolen cloth.

PAINT SPOTS
If you wish to remove a paint stain from a garment saturate the spot with spirits of turpentine, let it remain a few hours and then rub the spot between the hands. The paint will then crumble away without injuring the material.

PITCH
Scrape off all the pitch that you can, then moisten the spot with sweet oil or lard. Rub it in well and let it remain in a warm place for an hour. If a grease spot remains treat it with chloroform.

IF YOU ARE WELL BRED
You will leave your napkin unfolded when leaving a hostess' dinner table.
You will dip only the ends of your fingers in the finger bowl.
You will be sure to take with you any trifling souvenir provided by a hostess.

FRANZ PETER SCHUBERT

Austrian Composer of Early Nineteenth Century

Franz, Peter Schubert (1797-1828) was a native of Vienna, where he lived during his short life. The contemporary and admirer of the great Beethoven, Schubert is the most pathetic and interesting personality in music. Possessed of a gift for spontaneous melody, he composed almost unknowingly. The greatest of his works he never heard, and many were produced after his death.

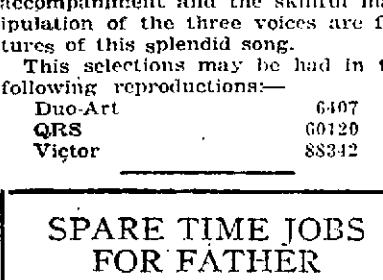

Schubert wrote in all forms. He left over six hundred and fifty songs, many part songs and Masses, eleven dramatic works, twenty-four piano sonatas, twenty string quartets, many overtures and ten symphonies. All of Schubert's music is romantic and beautiful, but his chief contribution to musical literature were his wonderful songs.

ERL KING
This musical setting of Goethe's poem was Schubert's first published work. It is a song of extraordinary difficulty for both singer and accompanist. Three distinct characters present themselves to our mental vision: The father, the sick and fevered child and the spirit of the Erl King. To these we may add a fourth personality in the person of the Narrator. It is a perfect example of the Art Ballad and the descriptive character of the accompaniment and the skillful manipulation of the three voices are features of this splendid song.

MUST NOT BE TOO CRITICAL IF YOU WISH TO CREATE

Taste in Reading is Constantly Changing, Manuscript Reader Says

By Ruth Abeling

New York. — "If you want to create—don't develop your critical faculties."

This, from Miss Matilde Weil of the Writers' Workshop, Miss Weil for years was reader for a number of the big book publishing concerns in New York and now, in the Writers' Workshop, which is her own, she still acts as the medium between writer and publisher.

"Critical faculties are always developed at the expense of the creative," says Miss Weil. "And I think this is true not only of writing, but of every other art."

"We who criticize cannot create. Taking into consideration the trend of the public taste I think the two major qualities which tend to make success in writing or art are: "One—An honest reflection of life. "Two—Perseverance."

"Public taste is changing," says this woman, who for years has had her finger on the pulse of the reading world. "People no longer want pure fiction, tales of love, fancifully woven things. They are demanding Biography, stories of people who have done things, with something of the romance of their lives."

"Possibly, this means that the world is becoming more practical in regard to its reading."

"Memoirs are popular. They, too, move better than most fiction does now."

As for Miss Weil herself, and her career in the literary world: "Graduated from Bryn Mawr, I came to New York determined that I should get into the writing world."

"I visited one after another of the publishing houses and finally went to MacMillan's and was given a position."

"I was put to work addressing envelopes."

"Finally I went into the chief's office and told him I thought he was worth what he was paying me."

"He looked up casually and said, 'Yes?—then you might take these home—see what you can do with them.' He gave me some manuscripts. I read them nights—gave my decisions mornings, and then addressed envelopes during the day."

"Finally it was discovered that I really could do bigger things and I was given manuscript reading to do entirely, until at length my opinions were the final ones."

Pretty when she wakes up

Cleopatra's way

With a world of ancient beauty arts at her command, she depended on cleansing with Palm and Olive oils to protect, improve and preserve the freshness and smoothness of her skin.

This beautifying was not confined to face alone. The bath was a daily ceremonial with all ancient peoples, palm and olive oils the cleansers used.

Bathe with Palmolive and keep your skin smooth and white. It is a luxury all can afford.

This is the real test. The girl who wakes fresh and radiant, with a clear, smooth skin which has no defects to conceal, need not worry about her looks. She possesses the greatest of all attractions—the one which outshines all others.

This need not discourage the girl whose complexion is not so good. Proper care will soon transform a bad skin into one admired for its perfection.

Get rid of the clogging accumulations which cause coarseness and disfiguring defects and you will soon be complimented on your fresh blooming complexion.

The secret is simple and about 3,000 years old. It was discovered in ancient Egypt and practiced by Cleopatra.

Simple—Beautifying

The remedy for a coarse skin, for one disfigured with blackheads or ugly blotches, is daily cleansing with a lather blended from palm and olive oils.

Such a cleanser is so mild and soothing that it softens the skin and keeps it smooth. But it removes the accumulation of dirt, oil and perspiration which are responsible for most bad complexions.

You can't neglect your skin and expect to keep it blooming and alluring. The powder and rouge you use to conceal defects deceive no one.

The soothing cleanser

Palmolive is the modern combination of the same beautifying cosmetic oils Cleopatra used in the days of ancient Egypt. It is just as valuable today as a safe soothing cleanser.

Massage its smooth, creamy lather softly into the network of tiny pores which compose the surface of your skin. It will remove the clogging deposits which enlarge these pores, cause blackheads and invite blotches.

Dry skins are benefited by cold cream after cleansing. If unusual dryness is your trouble, apply a little cream before as well as after washing.

Popularity—Low price

Judge Palmolive by other soaps and you will expect to pay at least 25 cents a cake. But the popularity which keeps the Palmolive factories working day and night naturally reduces cost. Quantity production is always economical.

Thus this finest facial soap is offered at 10 cents a cake—a price all can afford. You can economically use Palmolive for every toilet purpose, for it costs no more than ordinary soap.

Potato Dishes

BE cook why would serve her potatoes at their best never lets them stand after they are ready for the table. If potatoes must be kept warm for a few minutes they become soggy. A potato is as delicate a vegetable as asparagus and must be properly cooked.

Let old potatoes stand in cold water for three or four hours after paring and before cooking. This improves both the texture and taste. Never put old potatoes on to cook in hot water.

Potatoes make an excellent foundation for many dishes, with left-over meat.

LUNCHEON POTATOES

Six medium sized potatoes, 1 teaspoon salt, 1 1/4 teaspoon pepper, 1 1/2 teaspoon mustard, 1 cup coarsely chopped ham, 3 cups milk, few gratings nutmeg.

Wash and pare potatoes and put on to cook in cold water. When half done add 1 1/4 teaspoon salt. Cook until tender and drain. Put through a ricer or rub through a colander. Add salt, pepper, mustard and nutmeg. Mix lightly and add ham. Mix thoroughly.

Beat eggs well and beat in milk. Add this to potato and ham mixture. Pour into a buttered baking dish. Bake 45 or 50 minutes in a moderate oven. The mixture should be firm to the touch when done.

A potato dish that could well be used as a meat substitute is made with cheese.

CHEESE POTATOES

Four large potatoes, 1 teaspoon salt, 1/4 teaspoon pepper, 6 tablespoons flour, 4 tablespoons grated cheese, 1 tablespoon butter, 2 eggs, 2 cups milk.

Wash and pare potatoes. Cut in very thin slices across the potato. Put a layer of potatoes in a buttered baking dish. Sprinkle with salt, pepper, flour, and cheese. Dot with bits of butter. Continue layer for layer until all is used.

Beat the yolks of the eggs, with milk and pour over potatoes in dish. Bake an hour and one half in a slow oven. The potatoes should be tender and the custard set. Serve at once.

POTATO PUFF

Four potatoes, 1 teaspoon salt, 2 tablespoons butter, 1/4 teaspoon pepper, 2 cups milk, 2 eggs, 1 tablespoon minced parsley.

Wash and pare potatoes. Cook until tender, adding salt when half done. Put through a ricer. Add salt, pepper, butter and milk and beat well. Beat yolks of eggs till thick and lemon colored and add to potato mixture.

Beat whites of eggs till stiff and dry and fold into first mixture. Turn into a buttered baking dish and bake 25 minutes in a hot oven. Serve at once.

All these dishes are nourishing and high in food value, but not easily digested and should be served to children only at noon time. Brown bread and butter and a green salad should accompany them to provide a balanced meal.

"The Strange Answer"

"I'll begin on you," said Nancy, looking at the gnome at the gate. "You Crookabone in the circle around her. Then she thought of something else. "But how shall I know whether he is telling me the truth or not," she asked.

"Watch the cat's eye over the gate," said Crookabone. "If it turns red, you'll know Tweekabone here isn't clever enough to tell the truth. If the cat's eye remains green, you will know that he is."

"We tell the truth without telling anything. That's our way of trying our wits. Gnomes have to have wits as nimble as their toes."

Nancy felt like adding "and fingers," for she had not forgotten how the little rascals had stolen the gold out of the Fairy Queen's mountain, or how they had unfettered the locks of the cages of the circus animals and let all the creatures out, not only scaring all the countryside into fits, but disappointing the kiddies as well. Of course in both cases she and Nick had undone the mischief, and she wondered if the gnomes knew about it.

But she wisely said nothing and turned to Tweekabone again. Now was her chance to find out all about the missing Brownie and the key he had stolen.

"Where's the Kip?" she asked suddenly.

"Under his hat," replied Tweekabone promptly.

"But that doesn't tell anything," said Nancy in a puzzled tone.

"It's the truth just the same," nodded Crookabone, approvingly. "Bravo, Tweeky." And he slapped his next neighbor on the back. "All the gnomes were grinning until their long noses (that turned down) nearly touched their long chins (that turned up). The little girl felt very uncomfortable. What queer ideas the gnomes had about things! She decided that she didn't like the game at all."

LAWRENCE FIVE MEETS CARROLL CAGERS FRIDAY

Blue and White Tossers Start Practice Tuesday for Coming Struggle

After giving his basketball players a day of rest, following their two-day trip to Beloit and Milton, Coach H. D. McChesney started drilling the Lawrence college tossers Tuesday afternoon for the game with the Carroll college quintet to be played Friday night in Alexander gymnasium.

The Blue and White cagers are ready for a week of strenuous practice. They came through the Beloit and Milton battles in good shape, and barring accidents this week every man on the squad will be in condition for a stiff struggle Friday night.

This game will have an important bearing on the race for second honors among Wisconsin junior college basketball teams. Beloit has clinched the championship and Lawrence now ranks second to Beloit. If the Blue and White wins from Carroll Friday night, McChesney's team will share second place with Lawrence.

Lawrence mentor plans to drive his men at top speed this week in preparation for the game. The Carroll team has been an in-and-out-of all season, playing like a championship quintet in one game and showing ragged work in the next. Coach McChesney intends to have his athletes prepared for any kind of a game. Carroll will put up and will send his strongest lineup to start.

CLASSICS of the DIAMOND

Veterans of the game never tire of telling stories that feature Tim Hurst. Unquestionably Hurst was one of the most unique characters in the history of the game.

Jim Deleahanty, one of the famous players of that era, tells this one, which has Tim Hurst, Jack Kleinow, who once caught for the New York Americans, and James Deleahanty as the central figures.

Jack Chesbro was doing the pitching for New York. Chesbro had a spibal that was mighty hard to judge. Kleinow, who was doing the catching, and Hurst, who was umpiring, were disagreeing on a lot of Tim's rulings.

Tim called ball two with Deleahanty up, on a pitch that Kleinow regarded as a good strike. He made a strenuous protest. Deleahanty stood in the batter's box with a broad smile on his face. Jim liked to hear him argue. The call was two balls and two strikes on Deleahanty. Kleinow was positive the pitch that Tim called a ball should have been ruled a strike, and he felt sure Deleahanty would entertain the same opinion. Possibly Jim believed it was a ball, but Jim liked to see Hurst rave and he sarcastically replied:

"If there was ever a strike, that was one. For years I have been hearing stories about how blind you are. Now I'll believe anything they tell me."

Those cruel words certainly crossed Tim up, but quick as a flash, he came back at Deleahanty.

"Well, if that was a good one, you had better swing at the next one no matter where it is. Something tells me in advance it is going to be a strike."

Kleinow knew Tim was a man of his word. He called for a waste ball that was a foot wide of the plate. Deleahanty failed to swing.

"Strike three," yelled Hurst, and it went.

NEW LEADERS IN BOWLING TOURNEY

Changes Come in Rapid Succession in Annual Wisconsin Pin Classic

Changes are being made in rapid succession in team standings at the state bowling in Madison and new leaders are forcing to the front at nearly every session on the alleys. Mathewson Flowers No. 2, five-man bowling team from Sheboygan, jumped into the lead in their class Monday morning with a score of 2,898, surpassing the former leaders, the Nelson-Mitchell Milwaukee team, by 10 pins.

The standings are as follows:
Five-man teams:
Nelson Mitchell, Milwaukee, 2,885.
Pepper Bright Spots, Milwaukee, 2,877.
Sexton Systems, Milwaukee, 2,857.
South Side Malleables, Milwaukee, 2,854.
Guardian Life, Madison, 2,853.

NUSS AGAIN PUNCHES VICTORY OVER GRACE

Milwaukee—Piling up a good lead in the first few rounds all that saved Bobby Ward, St. Paul, from having a defeat, collated against him at the hands of Joe Jackson, Milwaukee, when they fought to a ten round draw here Monday night. Jimmy Nuss punched his way to a win over Frankie Grace in the semi-windup.

By United Press Leased Wire
Bouton—Stranger Lewis defeated Dick Daviarcourt of Wichita, Kas., in one hour, 15 minutes and 27 seconds with a headlock in their catch-as-catch-can wrestling bout here Monday night. It was a one-fall contest.

Basketball Wonder Man

DURING HIS COACHING CAREER HIS TEAMS HAVE WON 201 GAMES OUT OF 217

BY BILLY EVANS

Introducing the "wonder man" of basketball, Coach Meanwell of the University of Wisconsin.

Every sport has its so-called miracle performers. However, it seems that basketball has been overlooked in the shuffle.

Like many others who have achieved fame in the world of sport, Dr. Meanwell's opportunity to prove his worth was largely accidental.

During 13 years of coaching Meanwell has developed teams that have won 201 out of 217 games.

In nine seasons of coaching at universities of Wisconsin and Missouri his teams have won 140 games out of 155.

Of the 155 games played by these colleges, 130 of them were against teams representing the Western Intercollegiate and Missouri Valley conferences.

During seven years at Wisconsin his teams have won four championships, finished in a tie for another and third twice.

Twice, while at Wisconsin, his teams went through an entire season undefeated. On four other occasions his teams have suffered only one defeat during the season.

Basketball is one of the most uncertain games of all the sports, which speaks all the more for Meanwell's uncanny ability to develop winners.

MADE HIS DEBUT IN 1911
Coach Meanwell's first experience in intercollegiate basketball was during the season of 1911-1912. Up to that time Wisconsin, while fairly successful in basketball, had never won a western conference championship.

Shortly after the start of the 1911-1912 season, Haskell Noyes, former Yale star, who had been coaching Wisconsin, was forced to quit.

Every effort was made to secure a professional coach to take charge of the team. At the time Dr. Meanwell was in charge of the men's gymnasium at Wisconsin. He offered his services as coach until a successor for Noyes had been decided upon.

With only mediocre material, and a coach who was merely a substitute until some one else could be secured, Wisconsin resigned itself to a poor year in basketball.

The opening game of the season resulted in a victory. It was very unexpected. Then followed six straight wins. The athletic authorities began to think Meanwell was the man of the hour. He was given the position of coach.

At the close of the season Wisconsin had not only won the first western title in the history of the university but had gone through the entire season without a defeat.

In six years at Wisconsin Meanwell turned out four championship teams and two that finished third.

Then he went to University of Missouri and won two titles for that institution in the Missouri Valley Conference.

In the interim Wisconsin had been having its troubles in basketball. It was decided to call Meanwell back to again put the Badgers on the map. He did so by ending the season of 1920-1921 in a tie for first place.

DUNDEE EAGER TO TAKE ON KILBANE

By United Press Leased Wire
New York—Johnny Dundee has $10,000 to say that he can take Johnny Kilbane for the featherweight title.

The bouncing Italian has deposited his check with the warning he will claim the title if Kilbane doesn't hear him within six months.

Sounds like a lot of money to lay around that long but Dundee is expected to have gathered unto himself something close to a half million dollars in twelve years' ring work.

Dundee has been mingling with all the leaders for an even dozen years but it was not until recently that he succeeded in getting a title bout of his name. He is now the recognized junior lightweight champion, meaning the best 130 pounder in the country.

APPLETON MIXERS WIN FROM KIMBERLY TEAM

BADGERS GO DOWN BEFORE HAWKEYES

Madison.—Leading throughout the game, the Iowa University basketball five Monday night gave the Wisconsin team its second beating of the season, 24 to 18.

Good shooting by Shimek, Lohman, and good guard work by Devine proved the main factors in the defeat of the Meanwell five, who shot poorly and fumbled frequently.

Shimek, Lohman and Burgett each sunk three field goals for the Hawkeyes, while Gage and Caesar, with two field goals each, were the best of the Badgers. Taylor, heretofore the best Wisconsin scorer, got but one goal and missed four of his eight free throw chances.

Have You Piles?

Thousands who have piles have not learned that quick and permanent relief can only be accomplished with internal medicine. Neither cutting nor any amount of treatment with ointments and suppositories will remove the cause.

Bad circulation causes piles. There is a complete stagnation of blood in the lower bowel and a weakening of the parts. Dr. J. S. Leonard was first to find the remedy. His prescription, HEM-ROID, is now sold by all druggists. Dr. Leonard tried it in 1000 cases with the marvelous record of success in 98 per cent, and then decided it should be sold under a rigid money-back guarantee.

Don't waste any more time with outside applications. Get a package of HEM-ROID from Schlintz Bros. It is given safe and lasting relief to thousands and should do the same for you—it seldom fails. adv.

WESTERN SCHOOLS WANT NEW WHEEL

All Schools in Proposed Conference Strong for New Organization

By United Press Leased Wire
Chicago—Sentiment among western collegiate athletic directors is nearly 100 per cent back of formation of a second western conference composed of the larger schools outside of the big ten.

This was shown Tuesday when coaches and athletic directors of a majority of the colleges mentioned for the new circuit, wired the United Press that they were for the new conference.

Every reply received by the United Press, in answer to messages asking the opinion of coaches and athletic directors, was favorable.

A meeting will be held in St. Paul next week to discuss formation of a northwest conference and a second western conference may grow out of this meeting.

BABE WANTS MORE CASH BUT ISN'T "HOLDOUT"

By United Press Leased Wire
Milwaukee.—Babe Ruth, New York Yankee star, says he is not a holdout, but believes he ought to have more money.

Babe, when asked whether he would demand pay while he is "serving his sentence," said "may be," but would not say how much he thought he was worth to the New York Americans next season.

"Let them talk about that matter themselves," said Ruth. "They ought to know how much I am worth."

Ruth is appearing in a vaudeville act at a local theatre.

BADGER FURNACE FIVE WINS FROM ENTERLINES

Playing a fast and furious brand of basketball the Badger Furnace Co. team defeated the Enterline Shoe Co. quintet by a score of 20 to 9 Saturday night in the Y. M. C. A. gymnasium in an Appleton Commercial Industrial league contest. It was the first defeat for the Interlines in the league pennant race.

The Meyer Press five easily defeated the Kimberly-Clark quintet by a score of 22 to 13 Saturday night in an Industrial-Commercial league struggle.

TWELVE CORNERS WINS FROM NICHOLS QUINTET

The Twelve Corners basketball team defeated the Nichols five by a score of 15 to 7 Saturday night in the Twelve Corners gymnasium. In a preliminary game the Twelve Corners girls team defeated the Nichols girls 9 to 0. The game was played under men's rules.

The Freedom quintet will clash with the Twelve Corners five Sunday night in Twelve Corners.

PLAY OFF GAMES IN BOYS CAGE CIRCUIT

Games were played off Saturday in the Y. M. C. A. gymnasium in divisions C and D of the Appleton Athletic Federation. The scores follow:
Division C—Lincoln Eighth Blues 10, Lincoln Eighth Whites 2; Troop 3 Lightweights 6, Lincoln Eighth Reds 2; First Ward Eighth 6, Columbus Badgers 5; Lincoln Purples 10, Lincoln Eighth Orange 6.
Division D—Troop 8 First 2, Fourth Ward Tigers 0; Bull Dogs 10, Troop 4 First 5.

RUB RHEUMATIC, ACHING JOINTS AND STOP PAIN

St. Jacobs Oil stops any pain, and rheumatism is pain only.

Not one case in fifty requires internal treatment. Stop dragging! Rub soothing, penetrating St. Jacobs Oil right into your sore, stiff, aching joints, and relief comes instantly. St. Jacobs Oil is a harmless rheumatism treatment, which never disappoints, and cannot burn the skin.

Limber up! Quit complaining! Get a small trial bottle of old, honest St. Jacobs Oil at any drug store, and in just a moment you'll be free from rheumatic pains, soreness and stiffness. Don't suffer! Relief awaits you. St. Jacobs Oil is just as good for sciatica, neuralgia, lumbago, backache, sprains. adv.

STOP RHEUMATISM WITH RED PEPPER

When you are suffering with rheumatism you can hardly get around just try Red Pepper Rub and you will have the quickest relief known.

Nothing has such concentrated, penetrating heat as red peppers. Instant relief. Just as soon as you apply Red Pepper Rub you feel the tingling heat. In three minutes it warms the sore spots, neutralizes, soothes and stiffens the blood circulation, breaks up the congestion—and the old rheumatism torture is gone.

Rowles Red Pepper Rub, made from red peppers, costs little at any drug store. Get a jar at once. Use it for lumbago, neuralgia, backache, stiff neck, sore muscles, colds in chest. Almost instant relief awaits you. Be sure to get the genuine, with the name Rowles on each package. adv.

APPLETON HIGH BATTLES NEENAH

Orange and Blue Cagers Start Practice for Struggle Saturday Night

With every man on the squad reporting in good shape, Coach Vincent of the Appleton High school basketball team started drilling his basket shooters Monday afternoon for the game with the Neenah High school quintet to be played Saturday night in Neenah.

The Orange and Blue defeated the Neenah aggregation by a top-heavy score in Alexander gymnasium a week ago but the Red and White is expected to put up a harder battle in the game Saturday.

Neenah was without the services of its star basket shooter in the game a week ago but he will be in the lineup for the coming struggle.

The Red and White always puts up a bitter scrap on its own floor and Coach Vincent is not expecting an easy victory in this week's clash.

The Appleton five has three games on its schedule before the district tournament next month in the Oshkosh normal gymnasium. On Feb. 24, the week following the Neenah game, the Oshkosh preps will meet the Orange and Blue in Alexander gymnasium, and on March 3 the Manitowishue will clash with the Appleton team in Alexander gymnasium.

Invited to Green Bay

An invitation to attend the second annual industrial exposition at Green Bay, Feb. 21-24, has been received by Hugh G. Corbett, secretary of Appleton Chamber of Commerce. The exposition will be a display of the things manufactured by Green Bay industries.

QUIT MEAT WHEN KIDNEYS BOTHER

Take a Glass of Salts if Your Back Hurts or Bladder Troubles You

No man or woman who eats meat regularly can make a mistake by flushing the kidneys occasionally, says a well-known authority. Meat forms uric acid which excites the kidneys, they become overworked from the strain, get sluggish and fail to filter the waste and poisons from the blood, then we get sick. Nearly all rheumatism, headaches, liver trouble, nervousness, dizziness, sleeplessness and urinary disorders come from sluggish kidneys.

The moment you feel a dull ache in the kidneys or your back hurts or if the urine is cloudy, offensive, full of sediment, irregular of passage or attended by a sensation of scalding, stop eating meat and get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any pharmacy; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast and in a few days your kidneys will act fine. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to flush and stimulate the kidneys, also to neutralize the acids in urine so it no longer causes irritation, thus ending bladder weakness.

Jad Salts is inexpensive and cannot injure; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which everyone should take now and then to keep the kidneys clean and active and the blood pure, thereby avoiding serious kidney complications. adv.

Today's Sport Angle

Pal Moore occupies a unique position in pugilistic circles.

Moore is a legitimate bantam. He has been fighting for nine years. During that time he has outpointed four holders of the bantam title, some of them decisively, yet he has never worn the crown.

The reason, of course, lies in the fact that Moore met the champs in no decision bouts. In each case he won the unanimous verdict of the newspaper men. Unfortunately for Pal the title does not go with such decision.

When Kid Williams held the title, Moore outpointed Williams in a most decisive manner, if you are willing to accept the verdict of the newspaper men who sat at the ring side.

That battle was regarded as a mere flash in the pan by most of the flack experts.

Then the title passed to Pete Herman. In a no decision affair, after Herman had won the title, Moore clearly outpointed the champion.

Once more Moore received very little credit for the performance. It was agreed that Herman simply had an off night.

Joe Lynch then came to the front and took the title from Herman. Shortly afterward Moore met the new champion at Louisville and gave Lynch a boxing lesson. Moore's superiority was so apparent that he began to receive serious consideration as a contender for the title.

In the meantime Johnny Buff took the honors from Joe Lynch. Then came a no decision bout at Milwaukee between Moore and Buff. For ten rounds Moore threw a million boxing gloves at Buff. Even Buff admitted he had been badly outpointed.

Moore is certainly entitled to a bout with Buff for the title. Perhaps the Milwaukee bout caused Buff to decide on a trip abroad.

Moore holds the unusual title of unowned champion of the bantams.

Rich Bachelor Wants Wife

"Many people have blamed me for not getting married. Since childhood I have suffered from stomach and liver trouble, never being able to get any medicine or doctor to help me. Now that Mayr's Wonderful Remedy has entirely cured me, I am anxious to get a wife." It is a simple, harmless preparation that removes the catarrhal mucus from the intestinal tract and allays the inflammation which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments, including appendicitis. One dose will convince or money refunded. At all druggists. adv.
